Steel Workers Want Healthy Pay Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The "Big Six" of the basic steel industry know today what the CIO United Steelworkers want as a "sizeable" pay hike for 600,000 workers.

And David J. McDonald union president, was quoted as saying it isn't "nickels and dimes."

McDonald concluded a round of separate talks with the six firms Friday, and the discussions were recessed indefinitely.

McDonald took personal charge of the union's arguments for a big pay raise. He opened the talks Tuesday with U.S. Steel Corp., the top producer, and met in succeeding sessions with representatives of Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., and Inland Steel Corp.

The firms employ 400,000 of the 600,000 members in the basic steel industry.

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette quoted McDonald as saying he expected the companies to resume bargaining "probably June 20" with an offer of about 7½ cents an hour.

The newspaper quoted the union leader:

". . . If they offer anything in the neighborhood of 7½ cents an hour, we will say this is not a substantial wage increase and we will refuse the offer."

Basic steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour.

Some observers believe the union will settle for 12 to 15 cents an hour.

The union is free to strike June 30 if no agreement is reached, but most observers don't foresee any such action.

Big Cunard Line Defies Strikers

LONDON (AP) —The giant Cunard Steamship Co. — one of Britain's biggest dollar earners — defied wildcat-striking seamen today and made ready to sail two transatlantic liners with a reduced crew if necessary.

The striking seamen, mostly stewards and catering personnel demanding a shorter work week and better living conditions, have pinned six liners to their piers in Southampton and Liverpool.

An effort to spread the strike to the Queen Elizabeth, flagship of the Cunard line, failed earlier this week. The vessel sailed from Southampton to New York on schedule.

A spokesman for Cunard said that despite the walkout the 22,000-ton Saxonia would sail today for Canada and the 13,000-ton Media for New York — the first transatlantic liners to leave Liverpool in two weeks.

Meanwhile, railway union and government negotiators met for the third straight day in an effort to hammer out a formula ending the two-week-old crippling nationwide rail strike, threatening Britain's prosperity.

There was still no sign of a break in a third strike, involving 20,000 dockmen which has partly paralyzed operations in six ports.

Tuition Boosted To $200 At U. M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan Regents, preparing for a possible enrollment increase of 1,500 next fall, have boosted tuition to $100 a semester for Michigan residents.

The Regents, in their monthly meeting yesterday, raised the tuition structure $10 per semester at the undergraduate level and made other changes upward in graduate school tuition.

The increase in fees and income from other sources, plus the state legislature's appropriation of $23,725,000, will give the University a total operating budget for the coming year of $30,213,400.

This is $3,336,404 larger than last year's budget.

The reason for the increase, University officials said, is that Michigan's current enrollment of 18,500 definitely will rise to $9,750 next fall and might hit 20,000.

This would mean, they said, that the current staff of 1,360 faculty members would have to be increased by 89 to handle the greater student load.

This year student fees have been $90 a semester or $180 for a normal school year. Next year, Michigan's other university, Michigan state, will be charging $195 for an equivalent school year as compared to the $200 at Michigan.

Premier Bulganin Given Top Honor

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union bestowed its highest honor today on Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin on his 60th birthday. He was made a member of the order of Lenin.

The announcement said the Premier had been honored for his efforts in the struggle against the "Fascist invaders" and for strengthening the economic and defense might of the Soviet Union.

Health Service Vaccine Report Gets Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service was under fire from two quarters today as Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele declared "We can go forward," now that the safety of antipolio vaccine production has been assured by stiffer standards.

Scheele's confident statement came at a news conference Friday after publication of a lengthy "white paper"—a detailed review by the Health Service of the brief but troubled history of the Salk vaccine program.

No Doubts On Safety

The surgeon general conceded program "might have come close to the line of safety" in the past. But he said he had no doubts about safety now.

In New York, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, criticized the document, saying it "obviously gives only the Public Health Service version of the vaccine situation to date."

In Philadelphia, H. W. Blades, executive vice president of Wyeth Inc., took strong exception to a statement by Dr. James A. Shannon, an associate director of the Health Service's National Institutes of Health. Shannon said Friday one batch of vaccine made by Wyeth is being subjected to searching laboratory analysis, although he said there was not enough evidence to label that lot suspect. In its white paper, the Health Service said the circumstances of three polio cases had raised some question about the vaccine used.

Supplies Awaited

Blades termed it "most unfortunate, misleading and not in the public interest" that "suspicion should be cast on Wyeth vaccine and its routine retesting program and inference be given that Wyeth vaccine is 'suspect.'"

While Scheele reiterated his confidence in the Salk vaccine and voiced optimism, he did not say when he expected the mass immunization of school childlren to get back into full forward motion.

Meanwhile the summer's peak polio season drew closer with many localities still awaiting fresh supplies of vaccine with which to inject first and second graders.

Scheele told newsmen a decision to press on with the school vaccination program — after its suspension for weeks for special safety checks—was grounded on a "preponderance" of scientific opinion that the vaccine can be made without danger, under tighter requirements recently adopted.

Labor Situation At GM Becomes Mystery Story

DETROIT (AP) — The auto labor situation developed into a grade A mystery story today as General Motors Corp. delayed making its bid for a contract settlement before a fast-approaching Sunday midnight strike deadline.

GM's game apparently was to wait almost to the 11th hour, fling an offer at Walter Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers Union, and give the union little time to argue, only to make a yes or no answer.

Wage Guarantee Assured?

The big corporation considers itself in a strategic bargaining position, knowing that the union would be reluctant to call a strike of its 350,000 members at GM. Such a strike would cut off nearly one-third of the UAW's dues income and even low level benefits would wipe out in a few weeks the 25 million dollar strike fund the union is building.

Lack of any protest over the delay from Reuther of UAW Vice President John Livingston, head of the union's GM department, led to belief they had some assurance from GM negotiators that the eventual offer would contain the basic principle of the guaranteed wage.

May Embarrass Reuther

Reuther already has won a modified guaranteed wage plan from the Ford Motor Co., providing for a system of company — financed payments for laid-off workers augmenting state unemployment compensation payments, plus pay boosts and pension, holiday and vacation improvements.

If GM negotiators Harry W. Anderson and Louis G. Seaton have given Reuther advance assurance they will make a guaranteed wage offer patterned after the Ford plan there was guessing GM might do so in a manner that would embarrass Reuther and even endanger his guaranteed wage idea completely.

It was speculated that GM might make two offers, one like the Ford plan and another proposing much larger cash pay boosts for GM workers, with the suggesstion the UAW let the workers choose between the two plans.

Fat Raise Favored

In the Ford negotiations Reuther had proposed just such a popular vote among the workers. He called for a worker choice between a Ford plan to let workers buy company stock at half price and the UAW's guaranteed wage plan. Ford never took up the vote offer, but instead ultimately negotiated a guaranteed wage.

Any GM offer providing for a fat pay raise, either alone or as an alternative to the guaranteed wage, might put Reuther on the spot.

Since the Ford guaranteed wage plan was announced Monday, there have been a number of Ford work stoppages and worker protests that Reuther bought the guaranteed wage principle at a price of foregoing healthy wage increases from the profit-swollen auto industry.

This could mean that workers, faced with a choice between the guaranteed wage and steep wage increases might vote against Reuther and take the latter. If GM could engineer this, it would be a severe personal blow to Reuther and might even endanger his keeping the guaranteed wage plan won at Ford, which has not as yet been ratified by Ford union members. It would put GM in the role of saving business generally from the guaranteed wage.

Jet Pilot Killed In Flint Plunge

FLINT (AP)—The pilot of an F89D Scorpion jet was killed Friday night when his rocket-laden craft plunged in flames into a wheatfield near Bishop Airport. The radar-observer was pulled uninjured from the plane.

Air Force officials identified the dead man as Lt. Joseph A. Bostic, 27, of Springfield, Mo. The radar-observer was Lt. Leo. P. Bouska, 23, of Shawnee, Okla.

Both were assigned to the 63rd fighter - interceptor squadron at Wurtsmith Air Force Base near Oscoda, Mich. They were on a local training flight practicing instrument landing approaches on Bishop Airport when their right engine burst into flames.

Bostic tried to bring the ship in at the airport but overshot the field and crash-landed a mile south. The plane plowed a half-mile-long furrow before it came to a halt.

Bostic was pinned in the cockpit. Two men who witnessed the crash pulled Bouska from the wreckage.

The wreckage, including live rockets, was strewn over a half mile area.

Police sealed off the area from spectators.

Air Force officials said it would take an electrical charge to touch off the rockets.

Atom Power Stations Planned By Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Former Premier Georgi Malenkov says the Soviet Union expects to have large atomic power stations—with outputs of 50,000 and 100,000 kilowatts each — in operation within a few years.

Malenkov, now minister of power stations, disclosed this aim Friday in talks with reporters at an Indian embassy garden party honoring India's visiting Prime Minister Nehru.

The United States, Britain, Canada and other Western countries are now building atomic power plants. Work is underway on a commercial atomic power installation at Shippingport, Pa., where the Atomic Energy Commission and the Duquesne Light Co. hope to produce 60,000 kilowatts—enough for a city of 100,000 to 120,000—by 1957.)

Malenkov, who stepped down as premier last February in favor of Nikolai A. Bulganin, appeared completely at ease as he laughed and joked with reporters.

Malenkov added he would personally join a delegation to the United States "if they'll let me in."

Then he smilingly said it probably would be necessary for him to be fingerprinted first.

"I'm only joking," he added.

Sailor Recalled To Await Baby

GAYS, Ill. (AP) —A young Gays sailor was back home today to await the arrival of his first child after — as it turned out — an unnecessary automobile trip to Ohio.

The regular leave of Francis Drummond, 22, was running out; the child had not yet been born and Drummond had received no answer to his request for extended leave.

So at 5 a.m. Friday Drummond, a quartermaster third class, steered his car out of Gays en route back to his base at Norfolk, Va.

Three hours later a telegram arrived at his home. It said the leave extension had been granted.

Radio Station WLBH at Mattoon got wind of the sailor's plight and telephoned The Associated Press in Chicago. The AP distributed the story to Illinois radio stations.

When Chicago radio station WLS received the story, it telephoned station WCKY in Cincinnati. In turn WCKY notified other Ohio stations and the story went on the air.

Drummond heard his good news while driving through Chillicothe, Ohio; turned around and started back home.

Slaying Suspect Given Lie Tests

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police scheduled new lie detector tests today for a 29-year-old father held for questioning in the rape-slaying of 8-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Troopers said tests given the man Friday failed to show any evidence of guilt. He was booked overnight at the Ingham County jail at Mason on suspicion of murder, pending further questioning.

Lie detector tests earlier in the day at the state police post at Paw Paw were inconclusive.

Police have quoted the man as saying he accosted a 14-year-old girl near the Singleton home in Kalamazoo the day Jeannie vanished, May 23. He denies, however, complicity in the Singleton case.

Jeannie was raped and strangled and her body found June 1 in a wooded area in Allegan County, 18 miles from her home.

Troopers said the man they are questioning surrendered to Kalamazoo police Friday when he learned police were linking the accosting case with the Singleton slaying.

Clerk Collects His 5th Diploma

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joseph Gehler, 37, has just received his fifth diploma from the University of Cincinnati in 18 years.

"Some people collect postage stamps; I collect college diplomas," said Gehler, a clerk in the cost department of a cutlery manufacturing firm.

His latest is a certificate in accounting. Earlier he received bachelor of arts, bachelor of industrial management, bachelor of science in commerce and master of arts degrees.

U. S. To Promote Peaceful Use Of Nuclear Energy

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower, outlining two new atoms-for-peace programs proposed today the United States provide money and "know how" to help other free nations obtain atomic research and power reactors.

The President suggested this country pay half the cost of the research reactors, and he called the twin programs "the gateway to a broad avenue of world progress in the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

Will Ask Congress OK

In a major address prepared for delivery at Pennsylvania State University's centennial commencement exercises, he added:

"Our purpose is to spark the creative and inventive skills latent in the free world, to pool them and put them to work for the betterment of conditions under which men must live."

Eisenhower appealed anew to Russia to join in his 1953 atoms-for-peace program—and seemed to be making the appeal to the Russian people rather than what he called "their Communist overlords."

The President announced he will submit his two new programs to Congress for approval. He outlined the plans this way:

"First: We propose to offer research reactors to the people of the free nations who can use them effectively for the acquisition of skills and understanding essential to peaceful atomic progress.

Cost Not Prohibitive

"The United States, in the spirit of the partnership that moves us, will contribute half the cost. He will also furnish the acquiring nation the nuclear material needed to fuel the reactor.

"Second: Within prudent security considerations, we propose to make available to the peoples of such friendly nations as are prepared to invest their own funds in power reactors, access to and training in the technological processes of construction and operation for peaceful purposes."

The President gave no estimate of the cost of the program, but he said it will be "small indeed when measured against the certain returns, tangible and intangible."

In advance of his address, which was carried nationwide on radio (NBC, ABC), Eisenhower inspected Penn State's new $312,000 atomic reactor plant expected to be in operation by the end of the year. He also received an honorary doctor of laws degree, presented to him by his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the university.

No Word From Russia

In his address the President recalled that on Dec. 8, 1953 he proposed to the U.N. the creation of an international atomic energy pool for peaceful purposes. Eisenhower noted that the U.N. a year later endorsed the plan, but he said Soviet Russia still has "indicated no willingness to share any part of its nuclear stockpile" with such an international agency.

"Our offer still stands," the President said. "But we cannot wait on Soviet decisions."

Without waiting, Eisenhower said, the United States, already has entered into atoms-for-peace agreements with Turkey, Lebanon, Israel, Italy, Spain, Switzerland, Denmark, Colombia, Brazil and Argentina—and is negotiating additional pacts.

"Now we move in further action," the President declared. Then he set forth the two new programs.

"I still hope earnestly that the Soviet Union may join in an international effort to harness the atom for man's good. But I have such unlimited confidence in the creativeness of free minds and in the capacity of free men that I know we will, with or without the Soviets, achieve a more abundant life for those who join together in this historic venture," Eisenhower said.

Would Pool Resources

In setting forth his proposal that the United States offer research reactors to free nations and pay half the cost, Eisenhower made this further suggestion:

"If the technical and material resources of a single nation should not appear adequate to make effective use of a research reactor,

Cabbage Juice Cures Ulcers In Three Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Six years of experience with raw cabbage juice as an ulcer treatment indicates that procedure should be tried on all such cases before resorting to surgery, says a Stanford University physician.

Three weeks on cabbage juice plus a bland diet healed most ulcers in a series of 63 cases, Dr. Garnett Cheney reported in the Stanford Medical Bulletin. Six patients with "huge" ulcers needed 56 days of treatment. Conventional treatment for ulcer with drugs usually requires six weeks or more, he added.

Only three of the 65 cases failed to show healing. Dr. Cheney said each of these had dense scar tissue in the stomach and liver damage, there were three others, not counted in the 65 cases, who had stomach cancer as well as ulcers. Their ulcers did not heal.

Raw cabbage juice is particularly rich in a substance which Dr. Cheney tentatively calls Vitamin U. It apparently helps the stomach lining to resist breakdown when under attack by natural stomach acids and other body chemicals. The substance also is present in leafy green vegetables, milk and eggs.

Treatment calls for drinking at least a quart of cabbage juice daily. Dr. Cheney obtained cabbage juice in concentrated form so that less bulk would be needed. The juice also was reduced to powder and put into capsules for some patients.

Wheat Crop Cut For 1955 Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has forecast this year's wheat crop at 845,215,000 bushels.

The figure compares with 969,781,000 bushels produced last year and 1,154,073,000 for the 10-year (1944-53) average.

The department said this year's crop was grown under more rigid federal production control restrictions and also has been plagued by severe drought conditions in parts of the Great Plains producing areas.

A winter wheat crop of 639,224,000 bushels was forecast. This is a reduction of 13,662,000 bushels from the forecast of a month ago of 652,886,000 bushels.

The sweet cherry crop for 11 major producing states was put at 121,000 tons. This compares with 98,000 tons last year and 94,000 tons for the 10-year-average.

Michigan's winter wheat forecast is for 27,435,000 bushels This would be a yield of 29.6 bushels per acre from the state's 930,000 acres for harvest.

A peach crop of 2,200,000 bushels was forecast for Michigan.

President Ribbed About Red Tape

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower got a good natured ribbing today about government red tape.

It happened as he was inspecting Pennsylvania State University's new $312,000 atomic reactor. The tour was conducted by the chief executive's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the university president.

Eric Walker, dean of engineering, told the President the reactor is "unique because it is the first built entirely with private funds." The uranium to operate it, however, is to be supplied by the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The uranium is not in the reactor yet," Walker explained, "but if we can cut through this government red tape. . ."

The remark touched off a burst of laughter in the group of university officials on hand. The President grinned with a show of embarrassment.

"I must say," he explained, "I don't understand any delay in getting the fuel."

"It's just the timing," his brother Milton chimed in.

Fragment Of Shell Breaks GI's Jaw

CAMP W. G. WILLIAMS, Utah (AP)—An object, presumably a shell fragment, hit a National Guardsman seated within yards of Gov. J. Bracken Lee and other dignitaries Friday.

Struck in the face was Cpl. Norman W. Jorgenson, 19, of Richfield, Utah. He had multiple fractures of both the upper and lower jaws, and his physician said a metallic fragment lodged in his throat.

Lee was not hurt.

Weather Scatters Lady Derby Fliers

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—More than 50 women pilots participating in the Washington-Havana "Powder Puff Derby" headed for Key West today after bad weather scattered them for 800 miles along the South Atlantic Coast.

Only three of the 33 planes which left Washington early Friday reached Key West by nightfall. Others were strung out as far north as Florence, S. C., victims of turbulent weather that delayed the start 24 hours.

Only One At Fiesta

One made a forced landing on a highway, another was temporarily lost and only one spent the night at New Smyrna Beach, where the contestants were supposed to stop as part of the annual seaside fiesta.

First to reach Key West were Mrs. Lucile Wright of Jamestown, N. Y., winner of the race two years ago, and Mrs. Edna Gardner Whyte of Flushing, Mich., her copilot.

Mrs. Lydia Hawkins of Cincinnati, scheduled to make the trip alone, came in with Mrs. Virginia Ashelford of Springfield, Ohio, as copilot.

Some Turn Back

Last to arrive before the 7:42 p.m. deadline was Mrs. Bernice Trimbel of Flint, Mich., and her copilot, Mrs. Joan Hrubec of Cleveland.

A storm front that lay over sprawling Lake Marion, south of Florence, battered the light planes and forced some back to Florence Airport. Others flew around the storm or landed at such nearby points as Moncks Corner, Charleston and Beaufort.

The 33 planes are scheduled to rendezvous at Key West today and continue the flight to Havana Sunday.

Since this is a handicap race, the winner is determined by time spent in the air. However, all planes must check in at Key West by tonight to qualify for the last 90-mile lap to Havana.

Car Sinks In Pond; Driver Trapped

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—An automoble driven by G. E. Alderson, 38, bounced off a concrete bridge railing Friday, dropped 20 feet and landed upside down in a pond.

The furniture salesman was trapped in the partially submerged vehicle five minutes before three unidentified men pulled him out. A wrecker crew worked two hours to get the automobile out of the pond.

Alderson's face was scratched.

Fast Miler Weds

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Dr. Roger Bannister—the first man to run a four-minute mile—was married in a brief civil ceremony today to Moyra Elver Jacobsson, daughter of a Swedish economist.

Bannister and Miss Jacobsson are both 26.

Head Of Bay City Troopers Retires

LANSING (AP) — Capt. Earl E. Secrist, commander of the Michigan State Police third district with headquarters at Bay City, will retire July 11.

After 28 years of service, Capt. Secrist is retiring on a disability pension as the result of a serious auto accident suffered Nov. 18, 1952, while en route to help quell a prison riot at Southern Michigan Prison.

He will move to Nevada.

Capt. Secrist formerly was commander of the Grand Haven and the Niles posts, was assistant district commander of the Detroit district and head of the third district since May 15, 1949.

Det. Sgt. Harry W. Biggs of the third district also will retire June 16 after 25 years of service.

Crash Of U.S. Plane Kills 10 In Germany

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — A four-engine U.S. Air Force bomber crashed into a rocky hillside of the Swabian Alps and exploded shortly before last midnight. German police said the 10 crewmen perished.

The B29 hit the 2,100-foot Teckberg while flying in dense fog and rain, a German police officer reported from the scene.

He said 10 charred bodies were removed by Germany police and German emergency squads working all night. At the time of the crash, visibility was less than 50 feet, he added.

Police said the bomber apparently flew over the nearby village of Owen at an altitude of about 150 feet, then crashed into the rugged hillside less than a mile away.

The Air Force said the bomber, stationed at Molesworth, England, was on a training mission.

Names of the victims were withheld.

Five New Priests Get Assignments

Assignment of the five new priests who will serve in the Catholic Diocese of Marquette and changes in two other posts have been announced by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D.D., bishop of the diocese.

The newly ordained priests were assigned as follows:

1. The Rev. Lawrence T. Gauthier, Marquette, assistant at the Nativity of Our Lord Church, Sault Ste. Marie, and its missions.

2. The Rev. Mathias N. Jodocy, Rock, assistant at St. John's Church, Ishpeming.

3. The Rev. Raphael P. Landreville, Hermansville, as chaplain at Camp Plagens, the Upper Peninsula diocese's retreat center near Watersmeet.

4. The Rev. Armour R. Roberts, Rapid River, assistant at Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Engadine, and its missions.

5. The Rev. Dennis O'Leary, Manchester, N. H., and a former resident of Norway, Mich., assistant at Sacred Heart Church, Munising, and its missions.

Effective June 15

Other assignments or changes were listed as follows:

1. The Rev. Frederick L. Hofman, St. Ann's Church, Chassell, given leave of absence due to illness.

2. The Rev. Howard V. Drolet, assistant at St. Paul's Negaunee, to St. Ann's Church, Chassell.

3. The Rev. William Russell, formerly of St. Norbert's College, west DePere, Wis., to St. Paul's Church, Negaunee.

All changes and appointments will be effective on Wednesday, June 15.

Shrine Circus Here Sunday Too

The Nat Lewis Circus opens a two-day engagement at the Upper Peninsula State Fair grounds here this afternnon under the sponsorship of the Delta County Shrine Club, which will use its earnings for its public welfare work.

The Lewis Circus will offer performances this afternoon and this evening and Sunday afternoon and evening. It is the second annual presentation of a Shrine Circus in Escanaba and the Lewis show's attractions assure a varied and livel, program.

The animals acts will offer Christy's Fighting Lions, Widaman's Hollywood Elephants, Artie's Dogs, Donald's Dogs and Daniel's Canines, Rajam the Wonder Horse, Cee's Bear, and Aussie the Boxing Kangaroo.

The aerialists include the Virginians on the flying trapeze, Anton on the double trapeze, and the Great Sanislau in a 81-foot slide for life. The gymnasts are the Antonette Troupe of teeterboard tumblers, the Six Navarres, jugglers; Don Philips, unicyclist; Courtney's Olympic Girl Tumblers, the Four Whirlings on roller skates, the Landon Troupe of acrobatic midgets from South America, the Michael Duo on the perch pole, the Leons in unsupported balance and the Lewis clowns.

Don't blow your pennies and your dollars probably will be blown by your heirs.

Friendship is a good deal like credit—the less you use it the better it is.

School Board Candidates

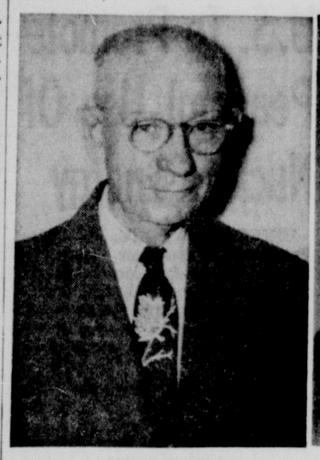

E. G. Bennett

Dr. Fred Hirn

Robert Mosenfelder

Alfred Peltier

Dr. M. L. Sullivan

Jack Williams

School Election Will Be Held Here Monday

Escanaba voters will elect two trustees to the Escanaba Board of Education in the annual school election to be held Monday, June 13.

Six candidates are in the field, listed alphabetically as follows: Ernest G. Bennett, Dr. Fred J. Hirn, Robert Mosenfelder, Alfred Peltier, Dr. M. L. Sullivan and Jack Williams. Dr. Sullivan, dentist, is the only woman candidate.

Dr. Fred Hirn, incumbent, is a candidate for reelection. The other board member whose term is expiring this month is Harold Crebo who is not a candidate for reelection. The term of office is four years.

All nine city voting precincts will be used in the election and the city registration lists will be used. All voters who are registered to vote in city elections are qualified electors for the school election.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m., (not 7 a. m., as in city and state elections) and will remain open until 8 p. m.

The voting places follow: First precinct, Carnegie Library; Second precinct, Franklin School; Third precinct, City Hall Fire Station; Fourth precinct, Jefferson School; Fifth precinct, Junior High School; Sixth precinct, Barr School; Seventh precinct, North Escanaba Fire Station; Eighth precinct, Webster School; Ninth precinct, Senior High School.

Board members whose terms do not expire at this time are C. Gust Peterson, Dr. Louis Groos, Charles Follo, Mrs. N. L. Lindquist and Dr. Roy Johnson.

Sault Tech Expects Larger Enrollment

SAULT STE. MARIE — Sault Branch of Michigan Tech officials are looking forward to an increased enrollment again next year, according to resident director Harry L. Crawford. The school year ended Friday.

Advance registrations have been coming in at a rate in excess of anticipations and present enrollment of new students is equal to the number enrolled late in August of last year.

The 1955-56 Sault Branch budget, recently approved by the state legislature, was planned for 365 students. It is quite possible, according to the registrar, that the enrollment will reach 400 by next September 26, the opening date of the fall term.

Total enrollment for the current year was 354.

Hubert O. Wood Gets Promotion

Hubert O. Wood, 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wood, 525 S. 14th St., has been promoted to plant superintendent in charge of production and pilot plant activities the Ithicon, Inc., Chicago. The promotion was effective June 1.

He is a graduate of Escanaba High School, Class of 1939. He was employed by Swift & Co., in Chicago until he entered the military service in 1942. He received his training at the University of Arkansas and was graduated from Frederick Air Base as a pilot instructor in the Army Air Corps.

Following his discharge from service in 1945, he returned to Swift & Co. as manager of the casing department.

He joined the Ithicon company in 1951 as purchasing agent. Two years ago he was promoted to general foreman which position he held until his recent promotion to plant superintendent.

He is married and has two sons. The family resides at 931 S. Ardmore, Villa Park, Ill.

100 Harnischfeger Employes Sign Up For Blood Donation

Mrs. C. L. Riegel, chairman of the blood recruitment program for the blood clinic to be held here Tuesday and Wednesday, this morning commended Harnischfeger employes for a generous response to the call for donors.

"We have 71 donor cards returned already from the Harnischfeger truck crane plant," Mrs. Riegel said. "We expect that when the donor cards are received from the welder plant of Harnischfeger, there will be about 100 donors from Harnischfeger employes."

Mrs. Riegel reported that the response from Harnischfeger workers constitutes more than half of the total number donors thus far signed up for the blood clinic.

"This tremendous response by the Harnischfeger workers deserves a community tribute," Mrs. Riegel said.

Despite the strong support of the blood program by Harnischfege employes, the blood program generally throughout the county is lagging behind quota requirements, the chairman reported. A total of 250 pints of blood must be collected here in the two-day clinic and to reach this quota from 275 to 300 donors must be signed up. A few are rejected for various causes and some donors usually are unable to report because of last minute conflicts.

Montgomery Ward employes lead the retail division in the blood program. Ten donor cards were turned in this morning by Montgomery Ward employes and several more are promised.

Rapid River has oversubscribed its quota. Rapid River has 15 donors signed up and had a quota of 12.

The Newcomers Club of Escanaba also has oversubscribed its quota. Bark River has signed up six donors and the five donor cards have been received from Cladstone.

"The benefits of this program are available to all the residents of Delta County," Mrs. Riegel said. "The success of this program will guarantee all of the whole blood needs in Delta County and will eliminate the need for donors at St. Francis Hospital."

For purposes of orderly scheduling, donors should make advance assignments for the blood clinic but those who do not sign up in advance will still be weclome at the clinic to be held Tuesday afternoon and evening and Wednesday until 5 p. m. at the Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Riegel said.

U. P. Road Job Bids Scheduled

Low bidders will be determined June 21 in Escanaba on a state trunkline highway construction project in Mackinac county and three non-skid surfacing projects on state trunklines in various counties in the Upper Peninsula, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

The state trunkline highway construction project is:

3.573 miles of grading and drainage structures and stabilized aggregate surfacing on the relocation of M-134 east and west of the village of Hessel in Mackinac county. This project will be in preparation for future blacktopping. The completion date for the grading project is Oct. 31, 1955.

The non-skid surfacing projects on state trunklines scheduled for the June 21 letting are:

44.8 miles on M-69, M-35, M-28, US-41, M-67, and on drives to Northern Michigan College of Education and Marquette prison, in Dickinson, Menominee, Alger and Marquette counties. The completion date for this project is Sept. 15, 1955.

47.58 miles on M-48, M-77 and M-28 in Chippewa and Schoolcraft counties. The completion date for the entire project is Sept. 15, 1955.

32.8 miles on M-28 from the village of Tula in Gogebic county northeasterly to Bruce Crossing in Ontonagon county. The completion date for this project is Sept. 15, 1955.

CONTRACT BRIDGE
By Josephine Culbertson

RUBBER BRIDGE VS. MATCH-POINTS

Josephine Culbertson

IT IS often foolish to abandon a contract at rubber bridge when, by taking the slight risk of going down an extra trick the hand may be salvaged, but this line of logic does not necessarily apply to match-point play. Consider this case:

South dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

	♠ A 9 7 4 3 ♥ A 5 2 ♦ Q 6 3 ♣ K 5
♠ 10 ♥ J 9 8 6 3 ♦ A 10 7 ♣ A J 9 2	N W E S	♠ Q J 6 2 ♥ Q 10 ♦ K J 8 4 ♣ Q 10 3
	♠ K 8 5 ♥ K 7 4 ♦ 9 5 2 ♣ 8 7 6 4

This deal occurred in a match-point pair event, and the bidding at one table was as follows:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Dble.	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened his fourth-highest heart, dummy played low, and South took East's queen. South then led a spade to the ace and returned a low spade. When East played low (trying for two spade stoppers and tricks), South put in the eight as an ordinary safety play. He was glad he had done so when West showed out, discarding a club.

Declarer cashed the spade king, then led a club toward the king. West put up the ace and led another heart. South could gain nothing by ducking, so he won with dummy's ace.

South had taken three spades and two hearts, and the club king was another sure trick, so, if he chose, he could get off with only a 100-point penalty. Apparently, however, he was not satisfied with this. Instead of cashing the club trick he knocked out East's spade stopper, obviously hoping to return to dummy with the club king and cash the established spade for the fulfilling trick. His "bravery" was not rewarded, however. East shifted to a low diamond, and after West won and ran his hearts, the defenders could easily shut out the club king, East taking the last tricks with diamonds.

It was foolish for South to incur a 300-point penalty. He should have seen that minus 100 would give him a good score, since it was obvious that East-West could have made more than that by playing the hand at their own best contract.

First Presbyterian Daily Church School Opens Monday Morning

Daily Vacation Church School will begin at the First Presbyterian Church Monday morning, June 13, and will continue for ten days, until June 24. The hours of instruction, handicraft, recreation and fellowship will be from 9 to 11:30.

This year St. Stephen's Episcopal and the Presbyterian Churches are uniting in the vacation church school. Teachers will be from both parishes and all students are invited.

Classes for children will range from kindergarten and primary through the junior departments. The Very Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector of St. Stephen's, and the Rev. George M. Reichard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will teach the catechism to the Junior High students at the same hours.

Soo Group To Visit Escanaba Kiwanians

A group of Sault Ste. Marie boosters headed by Paul P. Hoholik, member of the International Bridge Authority, will provide the program for the Escanaba Kiwanis Club meeting Monday.

The speakers will give background information on plans for a bridge to link Soo, Mich., and Soo, Ont., and will publicize the Soo Locks Centennial celebration which is now under way in the border city.

Feliow Citizen,

We are all aware of the problems which face school officials today all over the Nation.

One of the foremost is that of providing funds to meet the educational needs of our citizens of tomorrow.

Before considering other means of accomplishing this goal such as an increase in taxes—let us try to stretch that tax dollar to the maximum.

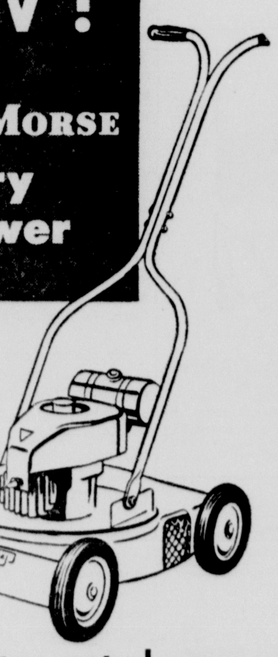

We can do just that by increased efficiency in the administration of our public school funds.

I regret that I cannot discuss this matter with you personally, but please consider this as my pledge to see that you get:

1. The maximum for your tax dollar.
2. The return of proper discipline in the schools.
3. A revival of respect for the time-honored teaching profession.
4. Immediate action on youth problems.
5. A mutual understanding between school officials and county administrators.

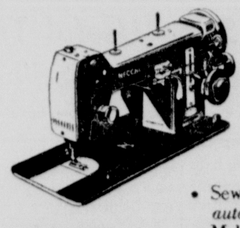

Sincerely,
Jack Williams

Teachers Federation Protests White House Conference Action

The Detroit Federation of Teachers Local 231, has protested to Clair Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, "the omission of the proper proportion of teachers as delegates" to the recent White House Conferences on Education. These conferences at the regional level (Marquette was host to the mid-Upper Peninsula region) picked delegates to a state conference held at Lansing in May. The state conference chose some of the delegates to the national White House Conference to be held in Washington in November, and Governor Williams will pick the rest.

The Teachers Union wrote Taylor: "We recognize that such conferences, to secure widespread public understanding of and support for schools, should have a large proportion of lay-people as delegates. What we object to is the almost total exclusion of rank and file teachers from the educator's group.

"No one knows better than the teachers the acute nature of the problems, or is better qualified to sell the public on their importance. Boards of education and superintendents, so heavily represented in the conference, have all too often been more protective of the interests of taxpayers than they have of the schools.

"We feel that the omission of the proper proportion of teachers . . . tends to give then a status of secondary importance in the minds of these representatives of the community at the meeting. We further wish to protest the high-handed and arbitary fashion in which the delegates from Wayne County to the national conwere selected. No opportunity was afforded the delegates to nominate any delegates. We were simply told by the chairman that the delegates had been chosen by his steering committee and their decision was final. He quoted your office as approving of this procedure."

This protest, while it embodies merit on the point of teacher representation in the conferences, presents the State Department of Public Instruction, which sponsored the conferences in Michigan, and its head, Dr. Taylor, in a bad light unfairly. The White House Conference plan aimed at a predominance of laymen and failed to achieve it through no falt of the schoolmen who tried to arrange this result. The department took a hands-off attitude on the selection of delegates to Washington to allow democratic process to work. The selections of many of the groups caused protests, but this was chiefly because more area nominees than delegate places.

The summation speakers of the conference, who visited the 50 discussion groups, found the voice of the teacher in the conference strongly influential, although teachers were not chosen as such. Many of the delegates were former teachers. Some of the regional meetings critized the conference plan because students weren't invited. The AFL teachers now critized both regional and state conferences because teachers weren't included.

The teachers' protest should not inspire public criticism of the conference. It neglects the true function of the conference, which was not so much to find out what is wrong with the schools and how to correct it. The chief reason for the conferences is to spread throughout the public an interest in school affairs which the teachers already have.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

How quickly can you spot errors in spelling? Do you consider yourself a good speller or a poor speller? Well here is a chance to check your own spelling ability.

In the following nonsense paragraph ten fairly common words are deliberately misspelled. See if you can spot them all. If you succeed on the first time through, you have nothing to worry about so far as spelling is concerned. If you catch eight or nine errors, your ability is about average. If you note fewer than eight errors, you had better take steps to improve your spelling.

SPELLING TEST: "The concensus expressed among the arbitrators came as a considerable surprise, seeming phenominal to observers who had expected dietnsion and were taken aback at the exhillarating declarations of peace and ammity. As if to coroborate the earlier prognostications of the comittee, a statement recrying innuenndo and abuse was issued. More stabillizing influences and a greater degree of parental supervision were demanded."

ANSWERS: The words misspelled, in order, are: (1) consensus, (2) phenomenal, (3) dissension, (4) exhilarating, (5) amity, (6) corroborate, (7) committee, (8) innuendo, (9) stabilizing, (10) parental.

Dig this defense of snoring by a Glasgow physician who probably makes an infernal racket when he's sleeping himself: "Snoring, he told a British Medical Association meeting, may be based on race memory. Afflicted males thus would make the noise atavistically at night to keep marauders from the den."

In other words, this snoring (name, Dr. A. H. Douthwaite) reminded wives of snorers that those assorted grunts, groans, whistles, etc., with which their spouses keep them awake are actually "evidences of deep love and the protective instinct."

A drummer applied for a room at the only hotel in town during a big convention week in June, was told he was completely out of luck. "But I requested this room way back in December," protested the drummer, "and what's more, here's your written confirmation of the reservation."

The desk clerk was not at all upset. "In December," he pointed out, "we had plenty of empty rooms!"

Here Are Some Useful Tips For Athlete's Foot Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

With the arrival of warm weather and the increasing use of locker rooms, swimming pools and other athletic facilities used by great numbers of people — ringworm increases by leaps and bounds.

This is a disorder of the skin which is also known as athlete's foot, but its best medical name is dermatophytosos. The various fungi (which are a variety of plant life responsible for dermatophytosis) grow best under conditions of moisture (hence their increase frequency in the summer months) and are spread from person to person from moist floors, towels, socks, and the like.

The feet, between the toes, the hands, the groin, and the scalp, are favorite locations for this condition.

* * *

Dermatophytosis may take various forms such as blistering, scaling, cracking, lumps or callous-like lesions of the skin. Itching is frequent.

Many persons have only mild symptoms which they do not recognize, and allow to go on for a long time without treatment.

The Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association has made some recommendations on dermatophytosis which include the following: The feet should be kept clean and dry with special attention to places between the toes; the shoes and socks should be aired when not in use.

What shoes are selected should be chosen with a view to making them as light and well-aired as compatible with working conditions.

* * *

A dusting powder consisting of 10 per cent boric acid in powdered talcum should be put on the feet, in between the toes every night and morning.

The council suggested the following policy as to treatment: "Only the mild lesions that occur between the toes should be treated by the patient himself; that is, where the lesions exhibit only scaliness and perhaps mild redness and fissuring.

"Considerable redness, moisture, pustule formation or pain call for the attention of the physician and the physician only. The patient must err on the safe side."

* * *

Nothing is completely safe as a local application except the boric acid foot powder mentioned. When improvement does not develop in two weeks, a physician should be consulted.

Self-treatment or overtreatment of these fungus responsible can be identified only with the aid of the microscope. Proper treatment depends on the kind of infecting fungus found, its location, and how long it has been present.

There are, however, an increasing number of good chemicals which attack the fungi responsible for this annoying disorder

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Soviet invitation has, we may suppose, come sooner than Dr. Adenauer expected or would have wished. Presumably he would have preferred it if Moscow had waited until say the autumn, that is until after the first cadres of the German army are in being.

Nevertheless, the Bonn government has expected and has been counting upon diplomatic recognition and an exchange of ambassadors. In fact there is some reason to think that there have already been unofficial soundings taken both ways about the acceptability of certain persons to head the missions.

There is little doubt, therefore, that Dr. Adenauer will accept in principle the Soviet proposal to "normalize" diplomatic relations, even though he may not wish to go himself to Moscow in, as the Soviet note says, "the near future."

* * *

The timing of the Soviet invitation shows light, I think, on how the Soviet rulers regard the forthcoming meeting at the summit, and the various Four Power and other conferences which are supposed to follow it. Quite evidently they do not believe that the three or four day meeting at Geneva is to be, or that it could be, another Yalta. That is to say that it could not be another conference by a few big powers who assign territory, fix boundaries, and authorize governments. The Soviets are expecting to transact their conferences but directly, bilaterally, hand-tailored and at retail, with particular countries.

They did this with Austria. They are doing it with Japan. They have tried to do it with Yugoslavia. They have set about doing it with Germany.

* * *

This latest note to the Bonn government marks the end of the period during which the fate of Germany was to be decided by the Big Four. At the Berlin conference in the winter of 1954 it was already clear that neither the western powers nor the Soviet Union believed they could agree upon a German settlement. All of them though in different ways, had come to the same conclusion — that the Germans themselves will be the principals in the negotiation of a German settlement.

And as three-quarters of the German nation live in the West German Federal Republic, the Soviets have taken the first step toward negotiations with the Germans.

This does not mean, so I would guess, that the Kremlin intends to make an offer on the basis of "take it or leave it" — let us say, reunification for resignation from NATO, withdrawal of the Red Army for the withdrawal of the American forces from Europe.

The tone and substance of the Soviet note looks, it seems to me, to a long courtship of the Germans rather than to some sudden and spectacular coup. If the men who are responsible for this note remain in control of Soviet policy, we must expect the Soviets to follow a gradual policy on reunification, on frontiers, on liquidation of the East German government, withdrawal of troops, and alliances.

* * *

Thus the Soviet note is not an invitation to Dr. Adenauer to come to Moscow and agree on a German settlement. It is an invitation to establish diplomatic relations, to lift somewhat the Iron Curtain, and to expand trade, leaving the hard questions of a settlement to be dealth with later on when the relations between Bonn and Moscow have become better.

The authors of this note are well informed about West Germany and about Dr. Adenauer's policies. Quite plainly they mean business. For Dr. Adenauer too believes in the gradualist approach to a German settlement, being convinced that when Germany is rearmed, when Germany has achieved a leading place within the NATO alliance, he will be talking with the Soviets from a position of great strength. There is nothing in the Soviet note which raises obstacles or objections to the general policy of the Adenauer government. The offer to establish diplomatic relations and to extend trade — is in the text of the note — unconditional.

* * *

Mr. Dulles can now shed at least two of his worries. He can put aside for a while the wet blankets which he always keeps available. One of his fears has been that the people of the United States will expect too much of the meeting at the summit. Another of his worries has been that the President will be asked to make too many big decisions at the summit. The Soviet government may have grandiose projects to offer at the summit. But the fact of the matter is that the Soviet government is now transacting its real business below and apart from the top level conferences. We may soon be worrying about something else. We may soon be asking ourselves whether we know all that we need to know about what is going on down there below the summit.

Picture Of The Future

Military Revolution Launched By New Era Of Guided Missiles

ROARING TOWARD A NEW DIMENSION in war fare, a guided missile takes off at White Sands.

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N. M.—(NEA)—Guided missiles have set in motion a revolution in the armed services which promises to be more swift and drastic than anything ever seen in the history of warfare.

Within 10 to 15 years, among other things, the traditional differences in functions of the Army, Navy and Air Force will be virtually erased.

In the meantime, however, the extreme difficulty of integrating these push-button weapons with present conventional forces poses one of the most delicate and dangerous jobs U. S. military leaders have ever faced.

A top civilian guided missile expert explains:

"We could become dangerously weak by forcing missiles into combat units too soon. Although the missiles themselves can do astonishing things a lot has yet to be learned about incorporating them into tactical doctrine and handling them under combat conditions.

"If war should come and it turned out that the troops didn't know how to employ their missiles properly the result could be disastrous. On the other hand if war should come and we had been too slow about putting proven missiles into the hands of troops that too could be a disaster."

* * *

The present status of missile progress and the problems of switching to push-button warfare are revealed from a tour of guided missile bases.

The most encouraging result of the tour was discovering the diligent, intelligent effort being put on improving present missiles and developing new ones. Today's advance state of the missile art is partly the fruit of a crash program begun at the start of the Korean War.

Also impressive is the keen awareness of the terrible danger to the country of too slow or too fast integration of missiles.

As of today, the experts reveal, the array of missiles in the arsenal which are combat-ready, or about to be, perform about the same basic missions which the weapons of World War II did. They do them far better, however. The missiles which will be ready for combat from five to 10 years from now are the ones which will add drastic new dimensions to warfare.

* * *

Here's what the services have in use now:

The most publicized missiles, the Army's Nike, the Navy's Terrier, and the Air Force's Bomarc are anti-aircraft weapons with astonishing performances. They fly at supersonic speeds. With their amazing electronic brains they seek fast-moving planes in the air and make an amazing percentage of kills. Each has special characteristics required by the individual service.

The Bomarc is reported the most advanced, with a reported range of 200 miles, although it is not now rated "operational." Nike batteries already guard many U. S. cities.

For air-to-air combat the Navy has the Sparrow and the Air Force the Falcon, also extremely accurate, supersonic weapons. They give fighter-interceptor planes a potential "kill" ability not believed possible during World War II.

The so-called "bombardment" missiles already come close to breaking down the established roles of the services. The Army's Honest John—now being used by Marines and Corporal can soar deep behind enemy lines. It's said they have great accuracy on targets 20 to 50 miles away. Previously, targets this far from the front would have belonged to the Air Force.

* * *

Also in the bombardment family are the Navy's Regulus and the Air Force's Matador. They have ranges of several hundred miles and fly between 500 and 600 m. p. h. They're rated operational but are already considered obsolete against newer missiles coming up.

Impressive as this array of weapons sounds there probably aren't more than 100,000 men in service now trained and prepared to put the various missiles into combat. It's this problem which has now begun to receive maximum attention.

The training of guided missile personnel is being speeded and expanded by all three services.

From experience with the test firing of missiles and from units already in Europe it's known that missiles require a high percentage of rear-area, support troops. "We've learned that you can't handle missles like you handle snells," says an Army missile expert. "They are affected by weather and other factors which we don't fully understand," he says.

"We're really in the Model T stage of missile maintenance," he adds.

* * *

Some of the fuels for the missiles are extremely dangerous and difficult to handle. This poses a whole new range of logistics problems for combat conditions.

Another problem to be solved is how many missiles to stockpile behind the lines and how many spare parts and how much equipment is needed to back up combat missile units.

One of the toughest problems inherit in the use of missiles is the need for a high percentage of high caliber men in each unit. They're trying to lick this by reducing maintenance to the switching of black boxes. But it still takes high IQ men to switch black boxes, they find.

Within five years, based on present progress, practically all anti-aircraft, air-to-air and air-to-ground and anti-troop bombardment weapons will be guided missiles. By that time the services will be well into the agonizing revolution which will be abolishing the differences among them.

I would like to point out that in all of the statements made by the Red Chinese, never have they talked about . . . capturing the off-shore islands (Matsu and Quemoy). They have said we are going to capture Formosa.—President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Vice President Richard Nixon has become hostess Gwenn Cafritz's only social failure. In spite of many imaginative tries, she has never produced him at one of her parties.

She has sent him engraved invitations, wires, letters, notes, tried to call him and duplicated the effort on Mrs. Nixon.

She has even had top Republicans attempt to bring them over several times. But no soap. The Nixons have resisted her alcohol, caviar and basement night club.

The V.P. has never openly given a reason for this resistance. Friends say it is because he was never asked to her house while he was a mere senator.

Dignified Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson is the favorite target of salty Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla).

After Benson told a meeting of Republican women that flexible price supports are stabilizing the economy, Kerr wrote to his constituents — capitalization was his:

A couple of American Legion auxiliary gals from New Mexico are really hep to what's going on in the world. Anxious to rally support behind a bill to bolster the country's reserve forces, they composed powerful letters to their senator recently, asking his support of the measure. Only trouble was they addressed their pleas to Sen. Carl A. Hatch who has been out of that body for seven years and is a district judge.

Miss Lemmer Is The Bride Of Neale A. Ryno

A floor length gown of French lace over nylon tulle with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves was worn by Miss Mary Olive Lemmer for her marriage this morning to Neale Austin Ryno

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad P. Lemmer, Ford River Road, who was given in marriage by her father, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Ryno, 18 Wikoff Place, Red Bank, N. J., repeated their vows in a double ring ceremony at 10 at St. Joseph's Church before Father Stephen Schneider, O. F. M.

A pleated front panel detailed the skirt of the bride's gown. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was caught to a white lace and seed pearl cap. She carried white feathered carnations and pink roses in a cascade bouquet.

n Maize and Blue

A ballerina length, strapless dress of maize tulle and lace with a matching lace bolero was worn by Mrs. William Bisson, matron of honor and an identical dress of light blue was the attire of the bridal aide, Miss Alice Giffels of Detroit, a college classmate of the bride. Both attendants wore lace caps like the bride's and lace mitts matching their dresses. Mrs. Bisson carried light blue carnations edged with blue maline and Miss Giffels' bouquet was light pink carnations with an edging of pink maline.

The bride's young nieces, Mary Margaret Priniski, who is 6, and her sister, Catherine Ann, 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Priniski, were flower girls. Their frocks were white nylon. They wore wreaths of dainty white feathered carnations and carried nosegays of pink roses and feathered white carnations.

Dr. Robert Brotherton of Minneapolis, a cousin of the bride, served as Mr. Ryno's best man. Hugh Ableson of Detroit, also a cousin of the bride, was groomsman. The guests were seated by William Bisson and Donald Marvic.

Afternoon Reception

A full skirted dress of imported pink linen with a deep lace yoke and pin tucked bodice was the choice of the bride's mother. A pink flowered hat and white accessories completed her attire. Mrs. Ryno wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. White feathered carnations and pink roses were in their corsages.

Gladiolus, peonies and snapdragons in pastel shades, arranged in two tall standards, formed the floral setting for the ceremony. Patricia Olson, soloist, sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus." The traditional processional and recessional were played by the church organist.

The wedding breakfast for 38 guests, immediate family relatives, was served at the Chicken Shack and the reception is being held there from 2 to 5 this afternoon.

Table decorations are arrangements of mixed flowers, delicate ferns and matching tapers in candelabra. The wedding cake, its three tiers on raised pillars, is iced in pastel pink and white. Mrs. Robert Brotherton is presiding at the silver service, Mrs. Helen Connell is serving the punch and Mrs. Lester Brotherton is serving the wedding cake.

Honeymoon in Peninsula

When the newlyweds leave for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan the bride will wear a blue dress of princess lines with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white carnations. They will reside at 519 N. Butler Blvd. in Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School and Michigan State College. Mr. Ryno attended Ohio University and George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

Here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Ryno of Red Bank, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cook, Chicago; Miss Alice Giffells, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lemmer, Niles, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. John Fazer, Powers; Ray and Walter Brotherton, Negaunee; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brotherton, Minneapolis; Hugh Ableson, Wayne; Mrs. Helen Connell, Wyandotte; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hanley, Menominee; Mrs. Walter Erickson, Rockford, Ill.; and Misses Ceil and Kathryn Lemmer, Fountain City, Wis.

WEDDING IN AUGUST—Dr. and Mrs. Louis P. Groos of 1015 1st Ave. S. Escanaba, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Catherine, to James Joseph Clark Jr., Lieutenant, junior grade, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Clark Sr., of Wynnewood, Pa. The date of the wedding will be Aug. 13.

Intermediate Scouts Will Camp At Wells Park

Intermediate Girl Scouts of Gladstone and Escanaba will leave Tuesday, June 14, for established troop camping at Wells State Park, Cedar River. Camp will be in session through Friday, June 17.

The girls will plan and prepare their own menus and will do their own shopping. Some will sleep in cabins and others in sleeping bags. Swimming, water color painting and hiking will be featured.

Events of Week

Special activities for the week are: Tuesday, a lesson in water color painting by Mrs. Victor Powers and films on camping; Wednesday, sunrise breakfast followed by a hike and a "Scout's Own" with each troop participating; Thursday, fudge and popcorn party; Friday, art show with judging of paintings and frames.

During the week the girls also will make plaster casts of animal tracks found on the beach.

In addition to leaders who will accompany their troop members, the staff will include Miss Ann McKenzie, Crystal Falls, waterfront director, and Janice Hoffmann, Gladstone, and Mary Groop, Escanaba, lifeguards.

Troops Attending

Troop leaders and Girl Scouts who will attend are:

Mrs. Soren Johnson and Mrs. John Norton Jr., leaders of Troop 13, Gladstone and Sandra Girard, Pamela Hardy, Ruth Hoffman, Marcia Johnson, Mialma Johnson, Ann Kinnie, Margaret Niedermaier, Judith Norton, Cora Sue Pepin, Patricia Searles and Maureen Webber.

Mrs. Gerry Niedermaier, Troop 7, Gladstone, and Margaret Clark, Bonnie Foster, Betsy Hale, Charlene Hoffos, Norma Houghton, Sharon Ivory, Mary Johnson, Kay Kennedy, Sandra Pierce, Darlene Royer, Marcia Skellenger and Suann Smith.

Mrs. Martin Rose and Mrs. LeRoy Hamilton, Troop 22, Gladstone, and Mary Jo Druding, Elizabeth Erickson, Janice Hamilton, Judy Keldsen, Jeannine Londo, Karen Long, Darlene Mortier, Elizabeth Olson Mary Carol Rose, Karen Sepic, Bonnie Sirola.

Mrs. John Lake, Troop 31, Gladstone, and Linda Apelgren, Mary Ann Dehlin, Diane Hammond, Beverly Harris, Virginia Jarvis, Dianne Koehler, Dinah Lake, Linda Nyberg, Barbara Olson, Barbara Potvin, Rose Reno, Sharon Rose, Elizabeth Rubens, Mary Ann Rubens and Janie Sanderson.

Mrs. Ray Gazlay, Troop 55, Gladstone and Sally Goetz, Marguerite Wilmotte, Judy Rasmussen, Patsy Morgan, and Loretta Laskey.

Miss Betty Morin, Troop 10, Escanaba, and Gail Anderson, Karen Bathke, Carol Bettiga, Judy LaVassar, Janice LeClaire, Elizabeth Loeffler, Jean Petersen, Judy Pohl, Susy Pohl and Loreen Jenkins.

Mrs. Marland Moreau, Troop 6, Gladstone: Martha Mathison and Francis Anderson.

Mrs. Theodore Goetz, Troop 33, Gladstone: Karen Anderson, Mary Ellen Anderson, Kathryn Ann DeHooghe, Mary Ebbeson, Sally Jo Hupy, Norma Jane Jarvis, Lorna McGonagle, Beth Ann Royer, Kathleen Roberts, Sandra Terrian, Mary Ann Anderson, Betty Jo Gasperich, Kathryn O'Leary, Patricia Potvin, Sandra Rubens.

Miss Carol Pilon, Edward W. Terres In Rites Today

St. Anthony's Church at Wells was the setting for the double ring wedding of Miss Carol Janet Pilon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Pilon of Wells, and Edward W. Terres, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Terres of Negaunee, today, June 11, at 9 a. m.

The Rev. O'Neil D'Amour officiated at the ceremony before an altar adorned with cut garden flowers of pastel shades. Wedding music was sung by St. Anthony's Choir with Miss Margaret Kroll as soloist. Organist was Miss Josephine Sayklly.

Attendants were Miss Ruby Stoykovich of Grand Rapids as maid of honor and Arthur Pilon, the bride's brother, of Waukegan, Ill., as best man. A sister of the bride, Miss Nancy Pilon, acted as bridesmaid, and flower girl was little Linda Marie Brown, the bride's niece. Nephew of the bride, Tommy Carmody, carried the rings. Ushering the guests to their seats were Paul Terres, the bridegroom's brother, and Tom Carmody, brother-in-law of the bride.

Identical Gowns

The bride wore a floor length gown of white nylon tulle over satin, the fitted lace bodice fashioned with an illusion neckline and long tapering lace sleeves. A braided design trimmed the bouffant nylon tulle skirt worn over a hoop skirt. Her fingertip length veil was caught to a crown of pearl sequins with seed pearl edging. She carried a white orchid with a purple throat on a white prayer book, gift of the bridegroom.

Identical gowns of yellow and pink were worn by the honor attendant and bridesmaid, respectively. The gowns, fashioned of net over satin, were worn with matching open crown headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of carnations, one, yellow, and the other, pink. The flower girl was attired in a similar gown of orchid net over satin. She carried a miniature bouquet of orchid carnations.

Mrs. Pilon wore a navy dress trimmed in white with white accessories, while the bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress with white acceessories. Both mothers wore carnation corsages.

Niagara Falls

Immediately following the nuptial service, a wedding breakfast was served at Bells. A reception for 150 guests will be held from 4 p. m., to 7 p. m., at the U. C. T. club.

When the newlyweds leave for their honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the bride will wear a cocoa brown suit with red accessories. Upon their return, they will reside at 319 N. 18th St.

The bride, a graduate of Escanaba Senior High School, is employed at the State Bank of Escanaba while Mr. Terres graduated from Negaunee High School and is employed at Harnischfeger. He spent three years in the Navy.

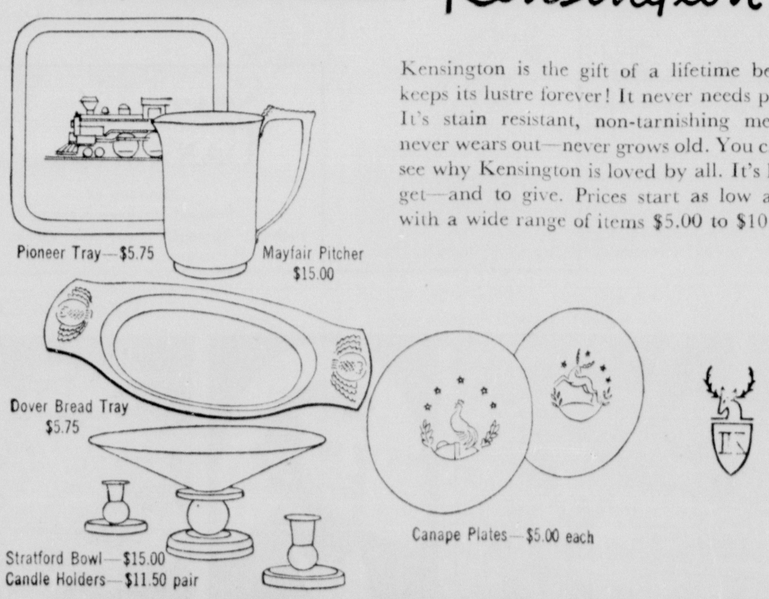

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pilon and family of Waukegan, Ill.; Mrs. Raymond Matthews, Chicago; Clara St. Thomas, Engadine, and many relatives and friends of Negaunee and National Mine.

Peninsula Clocks All Set Same

Adoption of daylight saving time by three Gogebic County communities, Ironwood, Bessemer and Wakefield, makes the observance of Eastern Standard Time complete in the Upper Peninsula for the summer.

The Gogebic County communities will return to Central Standard Time October 1.

Menominee City, a holdout from the Eastern Standard Time because of its state border position of proximity with Marinette, Wis., will observe fast time for the summer starting June 12.

In the fall, Menominee, Dickinson and Gogebic counties, all on the Wisconsin Border, as is Iron County, will return to Central Standard Time. The present summer uniformity of time standard for all 83 counties of Michigan is unusual.

GOC Acting Chief Observer Is Named

Escanaba Ground Observer Corp Supervisor Donald Wertz announced today the appointment of Mrs. Vera Krause as acting chief Observer for the Escanaba Post. Mrs. Krause is succeeding Mrs. Ethel Johnson, who is recuperating from a recent illness, and who will resume the position of chief observer at a future time.

Both women, Wertz said, exemplify the type of civilian volunteer that is making the GOC program a working part of the air defense system. They have spent much of their time observing at the post located atop the Delta Hotel, and assisting in administrative work, he added.

GOC observers wishing to check on schedule times may call Mrs. Krause at 3826. Anyone not now serving as an observer and wishing to do so, may also call her at that number. After a brief training session they will be scheduled at their convenience. More volunteers are needed, Wertz said.

Mill To Reopen At Dollar Bay

DOLLAR BAY (AP) — CIO woodworkers at the Horner Flooring Mill have voted to return to work Monday, ending a 30-day strike and a company threat to liquidate.

David Horner, plant general manager, said Friday the action averted company plans to shut down operations. Earlier he had said strike losses would force liquidation.

Sixty union employes walked off their jobs 30 days ago to back up new contract demands. Settlement terms were not disclosed.

The flooring mill is one of the largest industries in this Keweenaw Peninsula community.

Port Of Chicago Strike Settled

CHICAGO (AP)—A 15-day old strike by 350 AFL Longshoremen in Chicago ended today when union and dock company negotiators agreed on a new two-year contract.

Alex Hargrave, president of Local 19 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Longshoremen, said the union reserved the right to strike if anyone other than Longshoremen performed work prescribed in the contract, effective until May 15, 1957.

The new contract also provided, Hargrave said, for an hourly pay raise of five cents and company contributions of seven cents hourly toward a Longshoremens' pension fund.

The settlement reopened the Port of Chicago to lake traffic. The union said its workers would return to work when summoned by the dock companies.

Cool Weather Will Continue In State

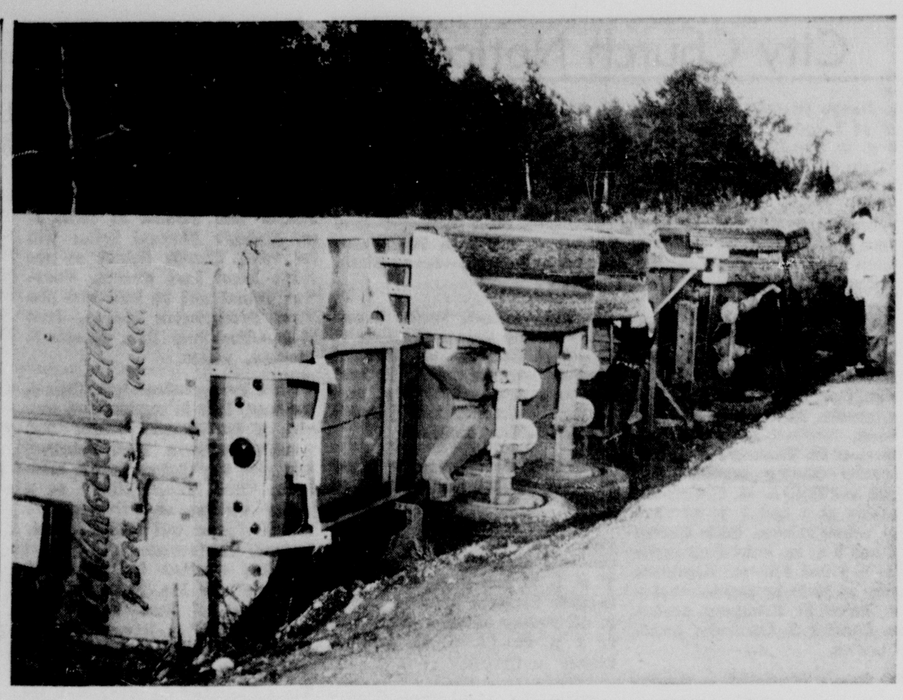

Temperatures in Michigan will average 4 to 8 degrees below seasonal normal for the next four days, according to a special forecast issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, reports that for the period June 10-15 it will be rather cool with only minor day-to-day changes. There will be few if any showers in the Upper Peninsula for the period.

Briefly Told

Theft Reported—The theft of $5 from the Welcome Hotel, which was entered by a thief who broke and removed a small piece of glass from a door, was reported to Escanaba police yesterday.

Street Lamp Broken—A motorists who did not stop following the accident at 10:30 p. m. Friday struck and broke a light pole at Ogden Ave. and 7th St., police reported. The identity of the driver has not yet been determined.

Fire Call—An overheated space heater at the Eino Anderson home, 1416 N. 23rd St., resulted in a call to the fire department at 9:25 p. m. yesterday. There was no damage.

Fair Board Meets — The Upper Peninsula State Fair board of managers will meet in Escanaba this evening to make final plans for the 1955 U. P. State Fair. One of the items on the agenda will be a decision concerning night fireworks.

Rotary Meeting — Members of the Escanaba Rotary Club who attended Rotary International's Golden Anniversary convention in Chicago earlier this month will present reports to the club at next Monday's luncheon meeting at the Delta Hotel.

Ford River Election—Voters of Ford River Township will elect two school board members Monday, June 13. The polls at the township hall will be open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Following the election, the board of education will hold its annual meeting.

Motorists Ticketed — Escanaba police have issued traffic violation tickets to the following motorists: Selden M. Mirvis, Detroit, disobeying stop sign; Edward Brotherton, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding; Milton J. Micheau, Cornell, defective brakes; George Martin, North Bay Shore, Escanaba, disobeying stop sign; Rita Lark, 209 N. 13th St., expired operator's license; Clinton Plouff, Gladstone Rte. 1, speeding and disobeying stop sign.

This will be the last social for the summer months.

School Election At Rock Monday

ROCK — Two members to the Board of Education of Maple Ridge and Ewing Township School district will be elected Monday, June 13. Polls will open from 10 a .m. until 5 p. m. at the Rock High School.

Seeking re-election are Emil DeBacker and Albert Norden. New candidate is Mrs. Albert Weldum.

Spalding Elects Board Monday

POWERS — Electors of the Spalding Township school district will elect two members of the board of education on Monday and the absentee ballot requests indicate a large vote, though less than the record of three years ago. At that time Spalding polled 191 absentee ballots in a total voter registration of about 800.

There had been 50 requests for absentee ballots up to last night, with the deadline for application at 4 p. m. today. The election will be held in two precincts, at LaBranche, and at Powers, from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. EST. About 600 votes are expected.

Ray Casimir, secretary of the board, who was elected two years ago to succeed the late Jule Hansen, is seeking a second term of three years and is opposed by Robert Triest.

Robert Page is unopposed for a two year term. When Garis Fleetwood moved to Arizona in January his father, Otis Fleetwood, was named to serve until the election. Page seeks to succeed him.

Besides the offices, Spalding township school electors will ballot on a proposal that the board be authorized to sell the old township hall building which is now located on the school property at Powers-Spalding. The 30x40 foot building has been considered for band rehearsal use, but it has been condemned for classroom purposes and if voters approve the board will remove it.

U. Of M. Students To Receive Degrees

Ten University of Michigan students of this area will receive degrees today, June 11, during the University of Michigan's 111th Commencement exercises in Michigan Stadium.

Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, who is Commencement speaker, will address the 2,713 June graduates. The University's total of degrees for the year has been increased to 4,531 since 1,818 already had qualified for degrees from the 1954 summer session and fall semester.

The impressive parade of the graduates across the football field is scheduled to start at 5 p.m. with the Commencement program set for 5:30 p.m.

White Pine Pays LaCroix Tribute

ONTONAGON—The White Pine Copper Days celebration of the revival of big scale copper mining in the Ontonagon area comes to climax here tonight with a testimonial dinner to Morris F. LaCroix, president of the Copper Range Company and its subsidiary, the White Pine Mining Company.

This afternoon's program included a parade in Ontonagon and placement of a replica of the famed Ontonagon copper boulder. There will be a square dance festival after tonight's banquet at which Gov. G. Mennen Williams is scheduled to do the calling.

On Thursday and Friday hundreds of visitors were taken on tours of the White Pine copper mine and the model village created to house the community. The White Pine Company and Federal Government have invested $80 million in the White Pine mine.

Harold B. Ewoldt, general manager of the company, said yesterday at the first pour of refined copper that the investment is more than $85,000 for every one of the 950 people employed there. The annual payroll is over $5 million. It took three years and the work of 1,350 persons to create the White Pine mining plant, which will produce 75 million pounds of copper annually.

U. S. To Promote Atoms-For-Peace, Eisenhower Says

we would support a voluntary grouping of the resources of several nations within a single region to acquire and operate it together."

As for his second proposal, the offer of U. S. "know how" for help in building reactors to generate atomic power, Eisenhower termed it "of immediate interest mainly to the power-short areas of the world where atomic power may be economically feasible even today." He added:

"Some of the countries, however, lack the knowledge and experience needed to construct and operate a commercial power reactor. This we can share for constructive purposes with friendly countries without real risk to our national security. Such sharing is expressly contemplated by the new (1954) Atomic Energy Act."

"Here," he said, "is an invitation—to scientists and engineers, to industries and governments—to pool their energies and creative talents that this great achievement of the human mind may bear the fruit of its infinite promise.

"While we build atomic-powered ships for war—because we must—we have the desire, the determination to build atomic powered ships for peace. And build them we shall."

Eisenhower arrived here by plane Friday.

Hospital

Wayne King, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis King, 319 N. 16th St., has been dismissed from St. Francis Hospital where he has been a patient for several days. He sustained a fracture of the left leg in a fall near his home.

FOR BETTER HOMES

BUILD-REPAIR-REMODEL

FOR BETTER LIVING

Building Begun By Culvert Co.

The Bark River Culvert & Equipment Company has begun the construction of an office, sales and service building at 430 N. 23rd St., and a permit for the project has been approved by the city under the building code.

The location is on US-2-41 just north of the railway overpass in the city. According to the plans accompanying the application for a permit, the building will be 104 feet by 124 feet in dimension. Construction has been started on the building foundation.

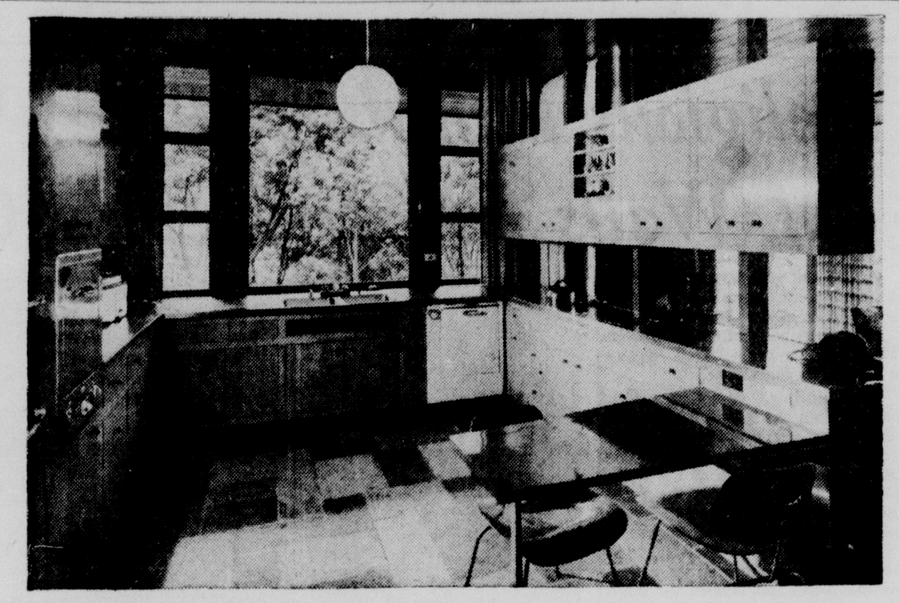

Other building permits issued by the city during the past week include three new dwellings. The applicants are as follows:

Harold Finman, for a house at 712 S. 15th St.; Eldred Sattem for a dwelling at 823 S. 20th St.; and an Arbour built home at 1509 S 14th St.

The emphasis is on home building in Escanaba so far this year, with a total of approximately 25 permits issued by the city for construction of new dwellings. Remodeling is also going forward briskly among the minor projects, including the addition of garages and bedrooms and the remodeling of attics and basements into guest and playrooms.

COST OF FREEDOM

You can depend on our Uncle Sam to do the job well, but you must expect him to take your money to do it with.

DRESSING UP THE KITCHEN is in fashion and, rightfully so, for it's here that the homemaker spends her time while the man of the house is at the office. Note how efficiently the working centers are arranged in this Danville, Ill., home, and the abundance of daylight coming in through the huge window over the sink. The counter at the right has a convenient pass-through to the dining area. Cabinets are natural birch and the floor is slate.

How To Restore Lawn Furniture

Outdoor living is part of the American scheme of enjoyment. So garden furniture has come into prominence.

Bamboo, rattan, redwood, wrought iron, aluminum, stainless steel and plastic are just a few of the materials that bring the outdoors into the realm of easy living.

Redwood is popular, easy to refinish and to keep looking new with this method: Sand, smoothing away wood fibers, using a holder for the sandpaper. Remove all wood dust with a clean dry brush or lint-free cloth. Two coats of color-toned resin sealer give a durable finish protecting your wood against warping, swelling. Pores of wood are sealed against damaging moisture and special pigments filter out sun's rays. Resin color tones include driftwood, redwood, sage, cedar, mahogany or others, permitting natural wood grain to show through. Sand lightly between coats.

Metal Furniture

Outdoor metal furniture may be rejuvenated by washing, sandpapering rough or glossy surfaces, cracks and rust spots, and then painting. Give bare metal a coat of metal primer. Stir a speed enamel that is a nonfading weather protector. Use a clean soft-bristled brush. Place tables upside down so you can do legs first. Eighteen colors are available in this enamel. High style colors include antique white, cream, dusky black, aqua, pale pink and coral this year. You can sprinkle a little gold metallic powder on newly painted surfaces before the paint dries for a special treat.

Bamboo and rattan are also being painted in a dull black finish — better for patio or covered terrace, however, than in the broiling sun. Reds, vivid green and blue paints are being used on other wood finishes. Cracks or nail head indentations should be filled in wood chairs with a spackling material before sanding and painting.

Protect Posts

Fench posts and trellises may be protected from fungi and borers by using a wood preservative. Surfaces must be clean before applying liquid.

Garden walks and patios may be coated in gay colors with a waterproof enamel that provides weather protection. It has a plastic rubber base, easy to use on concrete and flagstone.

Screens can get rustproof protection with a special screen enamel that does not clog wire mesh, helps to prevent oxidation and streaking of sills and sidewalls by copper and bronze screens.

Mildew growths on outdoor furniture, trim, etc. can be stopped by adding a mildew preventative to paints and lacquers.

Connecticut has more than 10,000 miles of streets, roads and highways.

Movable Drainboard

An innovation in some of the latest types of sink and laundry tray combinations is a movable cover that slides easily, without lifting, along the entire length of the fixture. Thus when either compartment is in use, the drainboard can be moved into an immediately adjacent position.

Be Wary About Deed To Home

By David G. Bareuther
Real Estate Editor ....

"Here's luck and happiness in your new home," said a guest at a housewarming party as he hoisted a cocktail glass. "May your floors never squeak and your roof never leak."

Assembled neighbors and friends of the family joined in the toast. But the moment they took the first sip of their cocktails, the house no longer belonged to the host.

There was a clause in his deed specifying that if this property ever should be used for the "manufacture, sale or consumption of intoxicating liquor, the title to said premises shall immediately and without notice or demand revert to the seller."

That's about the quickest way to drink yourself out of house and home that we ever heard of.

The story was told by George F. Anderson of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards. "That's a vicious condition in a deed," he explained, "and buyers should be on the lookout against it."

Not Like Groceries

When you buy real estate, it is not like buying groceries, or even an automobile. Lawyers say that no one actually owns land. What you own is a title to a piece of land together with whatever may be on that land. This right is contained in a deed.

And there are two main steps in buying real estate. One is the signing of a binding legal contract to buy it. The next is the actual taking of title. These two steps may be separated by a month or more in order to get all legal details worked out to make a foolproof deal.

Apparently our cocktail-serving home buyer had never read the deed to his property. Most certainly that anti-drinking clause or "restrictive covenant" as lawyers call it, was not mentioned in the contract of sale, or the buyer might not have signed it. Furthermore, if he had noticed that clause in the deed, he rould have gotten out of any contract which had not mentioned such a restriction.

Pitfalls In Contracts

There are a lot of pitfalls in real estate contracts of sale. You are not the only person who may be baffled by them. More than 2,000 lawyers, specializing in real estate, recently pondered these technicalities at the Home Title Guaranty Co. symposium for attorneys in New York's Town Hall.

An expert, Milton R. Friedman, read a thesis devoted to the troubles people get into by signing contracts hastily. He emphasized the importance of having every pertinent detail mentioned in the contract.

"A contract of sale," he said, "is a rather final instrument. If something is not in the contract when it is signed, it is not apt to get into the deal later.

"Of Course," he told the lawyers, "you can always ask for things," but after a contract is signed, your asking has no power behind it.

Mortgage Terms

Among the many details you should have in a contract, Friedman cited mortgage terms, such as a right to pay off a mortgage ahead of time, "grace clauses" to allow enough time to pay interest and taxes before a loan may be called, cancellation of leases and who should pay for any compensation involved to get tenants out.

Getting actual possession of a house can be another problem that should be foreseen in your contract. You may be buying the property, but can you move in?

If more than 2,000 lawyers can worry about such things, home buyers and home sellers should read and understand what they sign.

Tuberculosis Can Be Stamped Out; Need Emphasis On Case Finding

Pinecrest Sanatorium

By JEAN WORTH
Special to The Escanaba Press

LANSING—There are 23 institutions in Michigan for care of tuberculosis, of which four are in the Upper Peninsula. For some years doctors have been wondering what was going to happen to them and now the public is beginning to wonder, too, because medical science is making firm strides in the conquest of tuberculosis and the end of need for so many hospitals for the care of the tuberculous is in sight, though not imminent.

This year it was proposed that the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Howell be converted into an institution for the care of mentally deficient children. Such use has also been proposed for Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers when it is no longer needed for the care of the tuberculous, but there has been no action toward this end.

If Pinecrest were to become an institution for care of mentally deficient children its now limited expectancy of usefulness as a TB hospital would be extended indefinitely and its case load—it is now rated 128 bed capacity—would probably triple, with accompanying increase of staff.

Roy Manty of Lansing, public health consultant of the State Department of Health, Tuberculosis and Adult Health Division, has reviewed for the Escanaba Daily Press the picture of tuberculosis care in the Upper Peninsula and the state as it is viewed by his department.

State Owns Five

Of the 23 institutions in Michigan caring for the tuberculous, five are owned by the state. The only one in the Upper Peninsula is the Copper Country Sanatorium at Hancock. It has 105 beds with 66 occupied and it has never been filled since it was constructed.

The other U. P. institutions are Pinecrest at Powers, owned by Menominee, Delta, Dickinson and Iron counties and supported by them and with state aid. The state rates its bed capacity at 152, but the san administration rates it at 129, with 90 beds occupied.

Morgan Heights Sanatorium at Marquette was rated 99 acceptable beds with 103 occupied at the beginning of April this year. The fourth U. P. sanatorium is a TB wing of a general hospital, Grandview, at Ironwood, with 50 beds and about 36 patients. Except at Marquette, U. P. tuberculous care facilities are not being used heavily and the case load is dropping.

"We fear to promote home care of the tuberculous," said Manty "because it is not proven yet that it is a valid method of treating TB. Some states have gone into it, especially on the West Coast, where the hospital load has been cut heavily, but we feel that there must be a period of hospital treatment with drug therapy. In Michigan 90 per cent of the persons entering sanatoria are in advanced stages of TB.

Isolation Protection

"No one has yet come up with a plan to effectively control the isolated patient in his home without exposing others. TB is a contagious disease. The public health is not jeopardized if a mentally deficient child can't get into a hospital, but it is imperiled by TB.

"The TB case rate per 100,000 population is going down. In 1900 it was 112 per 100,000 and in 1954 it was 82. The death rate, which is the common criteria for measuring TB control, was about 12 per 100,000 in 1900 and it was 7 in 1954. All that we've done in TB control is reduce it from a killing disease to a chronic disease. The case rate has been reduced so little that it is not now warranted to reduce tuberculosis control, including isolation of hospital patients.

"We feel that there are about 3,400 active, unknown cases of TB in the state and at the last count, a couple weeks ago, we had 450 available beds in state and local TB sanatoria in Michigan.

"TB is associated with crowding. The state map of incidence of the disease shows this. The Detroit metropolitan area and the state's other industrial areas where people are crowded together show a high incidence of TB. Anyone can get it, but it is more prevalent in lower standards of living.

Economics Is Factor

"The economic status in illness is important. Where people have small means they hold onto employment until disease prevents them. The 3,400 with unknown tuberculosis do not know it themselves. They do not have education enough in the significance of the disease and do not know that it can be cured. The disease has to progress pretty far before it immoblizes them.

"We feel that we have got to expand our case finding services; that we must learn new techniques of TB case finding. In the 1930s tuberculin testing was in vogue. In the 1940s it was the x-ray and now it is a balance between tuberculin testing and ex-ray. Tuberculin testing has three values: 1 — it is an inexpensive means of screening school children; 2 — it gives a lead to contacts (youngsters have to be exposed to active TB to show the allergy to tuberculin); 3 — it gives a measure of the degree of infection in a community.

"Tuberculin testing is not effective in case finding because of the relatively few cases of TB in youngsters. Dr. John W. Towey, head of Pinecrest Sanatorium is an authority on tuberculin testing. He has tested all the freshmen and seniors in the four counties that own Pinecrest and has done it in Menominee and Delta counties for many years. The reactors have dropped during the years of testing from 12 to about 4 per cent.

Appropriation Pared

"These are immediately x-rayed and x-ray examination is continued. The local Health Department makes a follow-up trying to find the source. "The heart of any TB control," said Manty "is contact tracing. Unless you have an adequate contact tracing program you have deficiencies in case finding; some will go undetected. Case finding is costly and it is time consuming." The Legislature has cut out $300,000 for case finding after spending millions on TB sanatoria construction. Last year we got $126,000 from the state for case finding. This year we asked $300,000 for the counties for case finding, plus $248,000 for the State Health Department for this work. The Legislature cut the $300,000 entirely and reduced the $248,000 to $175,000. Of the $548,000 asked for case finding on the state and local levels all that's left is $175,000; only $49,000 more than last year.

"The importance of case finding to clean up TV can be seen in the expenditure of 90 per cent of the State Health Department's budget for TB. The state spends in excess of $7 million a year on TB care, nearly all of it in subsidy for treatment and care at the rate of $4 a day. The state shares the cost of care of the tuberculous with the counties, with more patients in locally owned sanatoria than in state sanatoria. Only a few private TB sanatoria, all in the Detroit area, are left. At the present time 90 per cent of the local sanatoria like Pinecrest and Morgan Heights are being used, while the state sans are being used 65 to 70 per cent, of their capacity.

"Tuberculosis can be conquered completely.

Virile As Ever

"The TB hospitals in the state should not be closed now because we haven't solved the problem of TB. The State Health Department spent a significant amount of money last year to develop TB clinics. They are practical only where there is a concentration of people and they are usually operated by local health departments. When a TB contact is found he is referred to the clinic for tests and if it is an active case of TB he is sent to a sanatorium.

"TB infection is just as virile as it has always been. Until we develop a vaccine for TB the only protection for the public is to isolate the case.

"The only vaccine—BCG, developed by two Frenchmen—is not a certain protection. It is used in Michigan with groups in highly hazardous occupations, like nurses and medical students who can't be under careful control. But it is not widely used and fundamentally it has not yet been found as effective as the immunizing agents used for the other diseases. And if BCG i used, you destroy the effectiveness of the tuberculin test, because the people given the vaccine have got tuberculosis in them bui' ing up antibodies!

Case Finding Inadequate

"Effort is being made to develop a vaccine and I have a feeling that we'll see an expanded use of tuberculin testing on higher age groups and x-ray used less for economy reasons. It costs 15 cents to tuberculin test a child and 50 cents for an X-ray.

"There is a heavy load of patients outside hospitals on TB drug treatment and their numbers are growing and creating a problem of how to protect the nurses. They are cared for by health departments, sanatoriums and by private physicians. There is no question that some patients are leaving the sanatorium earlier than they should and some who should go to a san are going on drug therapy instead.

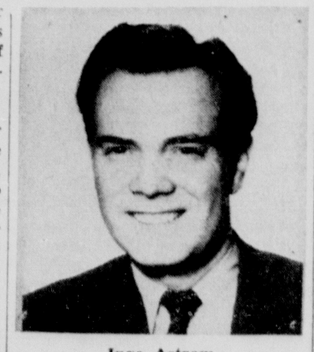

"There is inadequate staff for TB case finding everywhere in Michigan today," said Manty.

Rotary Club Sponsoring Second Exchange Student

Inge Astrom

For the second consecutive year the Rotary Club of Escanaba is cooperating in the launching of a friend-ship upon the sea of international understanding and good-will.

Last year the Rotarians, their club and their community, were host to a young Frenchman, Pierre Brohan of Paris, who came to the United States with the assistance of a Paris Chamber of Commerce grant. Pierre was primarily interested in furthering his knowledge of the paper making industry.

This year the Rotary Club will sponsor the visit to Escanaba of a young man from Sweden—Inge Astrom, 28 of Stockholm, whose chief interest is continuing his study of the economics of transportation. He speaks English well if not fluently, one of the requirements of the students who seek a summer of travel-study in the United States.

Eager To Visit U. S.

Astrom is studying nights at the University of Commerce of Stockholm following his graduation from intermediate school and a higher commercial institute in the Swedish capital. He is employed in the public transport system of Stockholm and his field of study is in the economics of transportation.

Among the many agencies in other countries cooperating with the International Research Fund in the program of arranging the international exchange of students, is the Sweden-American Foundation of Stockholm.

"The hope of being able to get an opportunity to study American transportation conditions is primarily the purpose for my applying for this scholarship," Astrom noted last spring in making application for the scholarship grant. "In addit[illegible] it of great interest to have the possibility to observe at close hand the American people, their culture and, of special interest, the American standard of life."

Arrangements with the International Research Fund for Astram's visit to Escanaba are being made by Clint Dunathan, chairman of the Rotary Club's international service committee.

Rotary's Objective

The international service objective of Rotary is to foster world peace through international understanding and good-will. The sponsorship of a student visitor is a common practice among many Rotary Clubs.

Home hospitality is arranged by the Rotary Club so the student can live with eight or nine families for the period of a week at a time, thus becoming in a sense a member of several family groups and widening the student's opportunity to observe the social and family life of Americans.

Visits are arranged to local industries, farms, hospitals, schools, newspapers—to everything that contributes to making the community function as it does. Because Inge Astrom is interested in the problems of transportation, he will no doubt be given the opportunity to study American highway, railway and waterway transport as it exists in the Upper Peninsula region.

Through the exchange, Rotarians and other citizens of Escanaba will learn more of Sweden and its people.

Religious Murals Will Be Painted On Walls In St. Joseph's Church

A project, estimated at $5,000 which includes four large murals and a bronze canopy, was begun St. Joseph's Catholic Church Monday. The project will require a month to complete.

The murals, depicting four scenes from the life of St. Joseph, and other art designs are being painted on the wall and ceiling above the altar. Two of the murals will be painted on the right side and the other two will appear on the left side of facade.

A scene of the Nativity, the birth of the Lord, will be drawn on the lower left side of the wall. This mural, which symbolizes obedience to civil law, will picture Mary, St. Joseph and the Christ Child in the stable with the city of Bethlehem in the background and the Christmas Star casting its light upon the entire scene.

Flight into Egypt is the second mural and will appear on the upper left. This well-known portrayal will present a direct parallel to the trials in life in modern times. It will picture Mary, Joseph and the Christ Child fleeing their home with the pyramids and other suggestions of Egypt in the background.

Holy Family Is Subject

The Holy Family, Mary, Joseph and the Christ Child, is the subject of the third mural, which shows the family in Nazareth with other homes of the village in the background. Overlooking the scene in the lower right of the wall is a symbol of the Holy Ghost sanctifying the family and representing the sanctity of married life.

The upper right mural depicts the death of St. Joseph and Christ is pictured indicating Joseph's passing into eternal life, which symbolizes Christ's presence at the time of death.

Throughout the painting of the four murals, a monochromatic color scheme, which means one warm tone will predominate, will be used. This tone will harmonize with the red marble of the altar.

Various colors will be introduced very lightly in the garments, characterizations of the faces and other objects, but the colors of the murals will present a subdued effect so as not to distract from the altar. Instead, the murals are to act as an aid to the altar and the Blessed Sacrament.

Bronze Canopy

The ceiling of the sanctuary will be adorned with a symbolism of the Holy Ghost and shining rays. Free ornamental work of Romanesque design will cover the sanctuary wall. The ornamental work will be finished in gold and imposed upon a blue background with a little color introduced in the design.

In addition to the murals, a bronze canopy is being added above the altar. The canopy was designed by Bernard Gruenke of the Conrad Schmitt Studio of Milwaukee, which also is the company doing the murals and other painting. It is being fabricated by the T. D. Vinette Company, and the dove and wheat symbols on the canopy are being cast by Chatfield's Foundry.

The two artists, presently in Escanaba, who are doing the actual painting in the chuch are Richard Fale and Kurt Dreutz.

Dreutz, a native of Dresden, Germany, came to the United States 18 months ago and has been associated since that time with the Schmitt Studios at Milwaukee. He studied art for 12½ years at Dresden. His studies consisted of oil technique for decoration on surfaces such as glass, walls and ceramics. Mr. Dreutz worked as a free artist in Germany.

An art student at Layton Art School for three years, Fale is presently studying theology in a Major Seminary at San Antonio, Tex. He works as an artist in the summer months to help work his way through the seminary. Before receiving his vocation, Richard Fale was employed at the Schmitt Studios in the stained glass and church decoration department.

The murals and canopy were part of the original plans of the present St. Joseph Church, Rev. Stephen Schneider, O. F. M., mentioned. But until this time, the plans were never completed.

Richard Fale and Kurt Dreutz are the artists who are doing the murals at St. Joseph Church. Dreutz is pictured here making a sketch of a portion of the one of the scenes.

Escanaba Teacher Gains Repute As Rider And Trainer Of Horses

A special education teacher at the John A. Lemmer School, Miss Mary DeBolt, is well-known in her home town of Toledo, Ohio, among the horseback riding enthusiasts and horse owners. Mary, 23, was the oral deaf teacher in the Escanaba Public School system during the past year and she will return here in the fall.

The young horse woman began riding at the tender age of seven. At this age, she was living at a lake with a camp which furnished riding horses near by. She began getting acquainted with the horses by offering to walk them. After a short time, Mary would walk them in return for being able to ride them. Every summer since that time, Mary has spent at the stables.

Her second home for the past 10 years or more has been the Howard Stables at Toledo, where most of her riding technique has been acquired. Mary began jumping horses when she was in the eighth grade in school. She was taught how to jump from Charles J. "Chuck" Howard, owner of the Howard Stables. While she learned to jump, Mary also taught beginners' classes in riding.

Miss DeBolt began schooling horses when she was in the ninth grade in high school. Schooling a horse is to teach the animal commands, how to jump, how to behave himself, how to take leads and do these things with ease.

She began showing horses and appearing in horse shows when a high school freshman. Last year the horse which she rode in a show, took 13 ribbons, six of them first places. Two of the awards were challenge trophies, which will have to be defended this summer.

Mary has also schooled colts and broken them in for race horses. A lot of spills are taken during the job of schooling a horse, but Mary thinks it is just as safe being on one horse than in a car with 100 horsepower.

A highlight in Mary's riding was the two years during which she hunted with the Spring Brook Hunt Club at Toledo, which is presently inactive. On the cross country hunts over fences, hills and creeks, the group would hunt fox. Mary also greatly enjoys the cross county rides with large groups.

A Healthy Sport

During her four years of college at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, Miss DeBolt rode at the stables on weekends. She also attended one year of studies for her Masters Degree at Lexington School for the Deaf in New York, associated with Columbia University and had little chance to ride then. Every summer though, Mary can be seen at the stables.

She will return home this week and will show horses at the Spring Brook Riding Club horse show this weekend. Mary has been riding all this week near Escanaba to get the stiffness out of her joints.

"Riding is a good, clean and healthy sport." Mary emphatically stated. "I recommend it heartily."

Five Are Hurt In Accident

Five persons were slightly injured in an accident at 3:10 p. m., Friday at the intersection of Maple Ave. and Main St., when a Pickford motorist failed to stop at an arterial on Main.

The injured, all taken to Schoolcraft Memorial hosiptal, were as follows:

Joseph Zawacki, 61, of Detroit, two broken ribs and bruises.

Mrs. Fred (Pearl) Galer, 58, of Pickford, bruised legs and shock.

Mrs. Joseph (Frances) Zawacki, 36, of Detroit, bruises.

Arnold Zawacki, 20, of Detroit, driver of one of the cars, bruises.

Muriel Galer, 19, of Pickford, bruises and arm out.

City police reported a car driven by Fred Galer, 63, of Pickford hit a car driven by Arnold J. Zawacki, of Detroit, broadside at the intersection, when Galer failed to notice the stop sign.

The Zawacki car, headed north on Maple, was spun around in the roadway. Both the right front and left side were damaged. The Galer car, headed east on Main, hit into the yard of the Cookson home and was damaged considerably when it hit a concrete wall there. City police estimated damage to Galer's car at $200 and to Zawacki's at $800.

Galer was ticketed for nonstop.

American Citizenship Greatest Asset In World, Rosenthal Tell Students

An address by Samuel R. Rosenthal, MHS alumnus and scholarship founder now practicing international civil law in Chicago, highlighted impressive graduation exercises Thursday night for 87 Manistique High School students.

Atty. Rosenthal, who holds degrees from the University of Michigan and Harvard Law school, reminisced with students about his early days in Manistique and contrasted the world of 1916 with the present.

He was introduced by H. Keith Bundy, a member of the Manistique Board of Education who was graduated with Mr. Rosenthal in 1916. The present Manistique High School building had not been built then and exercises were held in the Gero theatre on Maple Ave. Mr. Rosenthal, one of Manistique's most illustrious sons, was salutatorian of the class.

High Living Cost

During the commencement program here Thursday night, the Chicago attorney presented a Rosenthal scholarship of $250 to Harold Pawley, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isac Pawley, 219 Schoolcraft Ave. The scholarship award, often supplemented by Mr. Rosenthal, was instituted in 1947, but the 1955 award was the first he presented personally.

Noting that he wished he now "were as wise and knew the answers as confidently" as when he was graduated, Mr. Rosenthal observed that the world today is not as pleasant as it was in 1916. America was peaceful then and the war in Europe, then almost two years old, did not concern the nation.

"We were concerned with the high cost of living which, as the then current song said, 'was driving us mad.' Today, with inflation about us, we are made of sterner stuff," he noted.

Six Per Cent Interest

The European war gave the U. S. prosperity of a kind in 1916, he told students, but wages in Manistique were generally $2 to $2.50 a day. The flight of young men from town to the automobile factories and Mr. Ford's $5 a day, first a trickle, then was fast accelerating. Manistique had a Coast Guard "wireless" station behind Zimmerman's Cigar Store (now Stamness Jewelers), and an automobile trip to Gladstone and Escanaba was roughly the equivalent of a safari today in darkest Africa, he observed in contrasting the two periods.

"Much that we today take for granted was still unknown, not only the instruments of destruction such as the atom and hydrogen bomb, the jet bomber and the guided missile, but also those that prolong life, such as sulfa drugs, penecillin and antibiotics, and much that sometimes makes life more enjoyable, such as radio, and television. Equally unknown were hideous Bolshevism, Communism, Marxism, Fascism, Natzism and all the many "ism" which were to change our lives. Russia and Germany, indeed most of Europe were ruled by monarchs," Atty. Rosenthal explained to students.

The people of America in 1916 lived in a "world of certainty, safety and six per cent interest," he added. "If you had $40,000 you could retire, because that $40,000 would produce 2400 tax free dollars a year, or $200 a month. That $200 would enable you to live better than anyone in town except a few lumbermen, who then were not called lumber barons, he noted. In that year the "infamous income tax," then hardly three years old, affected only the extremely wealthy, and was "all of one per cent on the first $50,000 of taxable income, after an exemption of $3,000 for an individual or $4,000 for a married couple.

U. S. Hope of World

"But things began to happen shortly after that June night in 1916," Atty. Rosenthal recalled and "within 10 months the nation was at war and our world was never again to be the same. Many of the graduates were soon in uniform, as many of you will be," to told graduating students.

"I am afraid that as a group the 1916 high school graduates throughout the nation didn't do a good job in the world. As proof, see the state of the world today," he asserted. "Your generation can't do worse and will do better than we did; for there were many things which we didn't realize that you know full well," he told students.

"You know that the United States, in spite of its obvious imperfections, is the one nation of all the nations in the world in which individual man can live his life free from tyrants, repressions and fears; where life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and freedom of speech, religion and opportunity are still the birthright of its citizens—living relatives, and not the double talk of despots," he emphasized.

Have Precious Heritage

When one travels abroad and sees the glances of others, "you soon realize that the most precious and envied possession in the world is American citizenship," the speaker pointed out. Atty. Rosenthal in recent years has made several trips to Europe and Africa, on cases involving international civil law. He is associated in the law firm of Sonnenchein Berkson Lautmann Levinson & Morse in Chicago.

The rights and privileges of an American citizen are not an accident — although geography and a rich virgin country helped immeasurably — but are the work of all who have labored in and for our country before us. These include those thinkers and philosophers of Europe and Asia whose ideas came to the new world, where in fertile soil and enriched by the great, wise and understanding men and women who labored in the colonies before and during the revolution, and the millions who came after the world grew, he speaker noted.

"Since the days of Adam and Eve there has lived no completely self-made man; for ever since Adam and Eve, each man has had as part of his heritage the thoughts, labors and efforts of those who went before. There could be no so-called self-made man in the United States — lay or professional — if the traditions, institutions and opportunities of America did not exist," Rosenthal advised students.

Must Be Givers

Each of us, including you and I are only links in a chain, and that chain is no stronger than its weakest link, he declared. "If any one of us is weak, the chain is weaker," he explained. "As an individual, you must be strong, that our nation may be strong," he added.

If you are to continue to have our freedom to live the full life of an American citizen and give our children similar opportunities for freedom and education, all of us together and individually must vigilantly protect the nation and further the principles for which it stands, the speaker stated. These principles today are almost the sole remaining hope of a world faced with repression, starvation and annihilation, he told students.

"If ever our country fails to live up to and for its principles, fails to be the citadel of freedom and opportunity for everyone, it will be because we as citizens have failed; because we have not followed the golden rule, because we have been takers, not givers; because while we took the rights and privileges which our forefathers and predecessors fought for and obtained for us, we did not realize, we failed to realize, that every right and privilege imposes a corresponding duty — a duty to give of ourselves to protect and preserve those same rights and privileges," the Commencement speaker declared.

Live Useful Life

When American citizens sit back and cavil and complain, leaving the political, community and social work to others, they create a situation as dangerous as do foreign enemies who plot our destruction, the speaker cautioned.

Urging students plan a life useful not only to immedate families and friends but to the nation, state, town, community and neighborhood, he emphasized the necessity of each doing something for another to whom is owed no direct or apparent duty. "By so doing and only by so doing will we preserve that which is good and essential," he declared.

Diplomas Given

In life it is the journey, not the goal that is important, Atty Rosenthal observed, but we must have goals — goals which change and advance as we proceed in life, goals which we can not reach even though we plan wisely.

"Live as if your life were going to be a short one, and do a good deed every day, not for yourselves alone, but for others, for a stranger yet unborn," he advised. "In so doing, we will have found that life's journey was good and that some part of our great nation, and therefore the entire nation, is better and stronger for our having lived. Then, and only then, we shall have known and enjoyed the good life," he concluded.

Diplomas were presented by J. Ragnar Carlson, vice president of the Manistique Board of Education, in the absence of Ivor Willcock, president. During the program, the Mixed Chorus, directed by Francis E. Barnard, sang "One Little Candle," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Halls of Ivy."

Street Patching Will Begin Monday

Street employes of the City of Manistique will begin seal-coating and patching streets, Orson Livermore, city manager. reports.

A carload of road tar arrived by boat here Friday night and was scheduled to be brought to the city shop today.

Nearly all streets in the city need some patching, the manager said.

Convention Time

Next week Manistique will play host to three Upper Peninsula-wide organizations—the U. P. Road Builders, the U. P. Hospital Council and the U. P. Association of American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries.

We welcome this opportunity for visitors to see our city, and trust they will have good conventions and a pleasant stay while here.

It's not often we have an opportunity to host three large organizations, but we know others in the community as well as ourselves will do all we can to accommodate them.

Pay Guaranteed In Textile Mill

BOSTON (AP) — What the CIO describes as the first guaranteed wage plan in the textile industry has been negotiated with the American Velvet Co. of Stonington, Conn.

Victor J. Canzano, cotton-rayon director for the CIO Textile Workers Union, said that under the plan negotiated Thursday laid off workers with at least 10 years service will be assured $40 weekly for a year.

He said that under the plan the company will contribute $10 a week to the workers' $30 a week Connecticut jobless benefits for 26 weeks.

After that period, if the lay-off continues, the company will provide $40 a week for another 26 weeks.

The plan is based on company contributions of 27 per cent of its annual profits before taxes— two-thirds of this amount going into the unemployment fund and one-third into a pension fund.

Knox Is Coming For Legion Meet

Rep. Victor A. Knox, of Sault Ste. Marie, Friday informed American Legion convention officers here that he will attend the convention of the U. P. Association of American Legion Posts and Auxiliaries here next week.

The Congressman, who sent a telegram from Washington, will speak at the Child Welfare luncheon in St. Francis de Sales school Saturday noon and also at the pageant of drums Saturday night.

Upwards of 5,000 persons are expected here for the U. P. convention, which also will be attended by Gov. G. Mennen Williams Saturday.

Among Legion and Auxiliary officials expected next week are Ken Lundgren, of Menominee, state commander; Mrs. Gladys Taylor, of Brooklyn, department president of the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Pearl Drake, of Iron River, 12th district Auxiliary president; Mrs. Lillian Greis, Escanaba, fifth zone vice commander; Mrs. Margaret White, of Sault Ste. Marie, upper 11th district Auxiliary president; and Lyle Alexander, of Detroit, department adjutant.

New Backstop Is Slated For Armory Range

The board of control of the National Guard armory has approved installation of a new backstop for the indoor rifle and pistol range in the armory here.

Bids have already been received on steel sheeting for the backstop, which will measure 14 feet, 10 inches in width and 14 feet in height. The steel is to be 5/16 of an inch in thickness instead of the present 3/16, which is extremely dented. The backstop is at the east end of the 75-foot drill floor.

Work on the project authorized earlier by the state quartermaster general, is scheduled to be completed by June 30. Steel will arrive about Wednesday, Capt. E. J. Doyle, commanding officer reports.

Guardsmen use the indoor pistol range for practice shooting with 22 calibre rifles and pistols, in preparation for field shooting with larger weapons.

Former Resident Dies In Bay City

Funeral services were held Monday in Auburn, Mich., for Mrs. T. H. Pawley, 75, former Manistique resident who died June 3 at a hospital in Bay City.

Mrs. Pawley, the former Kitty Matart, was born here and lived in the Manistique area until about 20 years ago. She had been a member of the First Baptist Church while here.

She is survived by three sons, Bruce, Lynn and Neil Pawley, of Auburn, and a brother, Clarence Matart in South Carolina.

Glen Pawley and Isaac Pawley Jr., of Manistique attended the services. The deceased is a sister-in-law of Isaac Pawley of Manistique.

Youngsters Have To Plant Onions To Rectify Damage

Four youngsters who raised hob with a garden at the Emmett Jensen store, Rte. 1, Friday had to sow a pack of onion seeds to repair the damage.

State police said the youngsters ranged in age from 6 to 10. They tore up onions growing in the garden and also tipped over a smokehouse.

The youngsters had to right the smokehouse as well as plant some more onions.

Beverly Brandl Becomes Bride Of Lowell LaPlante

Sprays of gladiolus mixed with peonies and snapdragons graced the altars of All Saints church this morning when Miss Beverly Mae Brandl became the bride of Lowell Allan LaPlante. Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette was celebrant of the 10 a. m. nuptial Mass. The music was furnished by the student choir.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brandl, 560 N. 9th St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke LaPlante, 582 N. 10th St.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace over satin and net was designed with a jeweled neckline outlining the scalloped bodice which formed a yoke. The long tapering sleeves extended into points over the wrist, and the tiered skirt of Chantilly lace and net was bouffant style. A shell of Chantilly lace, edged with ribbed satin and adorned with small lilies, held her fingertip veil of net and lace. She carried a white feathered carnation bouquet centered with pink roses.

Bridal Aides

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Donna Lou. Acting as bridesmaids, were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Joseph Depuydt and Miss Gale Arvey, close friend of the bride. Sheri Brandl, sister of the bride and Susan LaPlant, sister of the groom, were flower girls. The maid of honor was gowned in a yellow ballerina length dress of net over taffeta and carried a colonial bouque' of roses, carnations, and snapdragons in pastel shades. A feathered carnation headpiece to match her gown completed her ensemble. The bridesmaids gowns matched those of the maid of honor. Mrs. Depuydt's was in mint green and Miss Arvey's in light blue. They carried mixed bouquets to offset their gowns and wore matching headdresses. The little flower girls wore identical dresses of pink crinkled nylon over taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of feathered carnations and pink roses edged with white maline similar to the bride's bouquet.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother Larry who served as best man, and another brother, William Bryan, along with Dick Ducheney, a friend, served as groomsmen. Ushers were Duane Bovin and Vern LaPlant.

The bride's mother was attired in a two piece taupe-colored linen suit with wedgewood blue and white accessories. A white carnation corsage completed her attire. The bridegroom's mother chose a luggage colored suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Reception and Dinner

A wedding dinner for the bridal party and immediate family members was served at the Chicken Shack at 1:00. A reception is being held from 4 until 7 at the Midway and a dance, with music by Ivan Majestic will be held from 8 until 12.

For going away, the bride will wear a two piece navy and white box style suit with navy and pink accessories. Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed point, the young couple will reside at 9½ S. 10th St., City.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Gladstone High school, class of 1953.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

One of the Upper Peninsula's all-time amateur boxing stars is home from an overseas tour that included stops in Scotland, Ireland and England where he met the best fighters at his weight in those lands....Harvard Lancour of Manistique, four-time Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves champion, returned from that dream-trip with a host of memories that will remain with him for a lifetime.

* * *

Lancour, a 19-year-old scrapper who began his ring career four years ago under trainer Ed Toyra, was lauded by his Chicago coaches as one of the best of the United States fighters on the 10-man team that invaded Europe last month...Although he won only one official fight in four starts, Izzy Kline who handled the American boxers declared that he actually defeated three of his four opponents...And Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune who accompanied the team, concurred with Lancour's coach.

Harvard Lancour

* * *

The Manistique youth has no complaint on his treatment in the British Empire rings, however.. "The fighters were excellent sportsmen and great competitors," he says...."After the referee had announced the decision following my first fight with Ed Duffy of Ireland (the decision was awarded to Duffy) Duffy came across the ring immediately and said he knew that he hadn't won the fight," Lancour stated.....The methods of judging the fights and the handling of the bouts by the referees completely baffled the American boxers and coaches, Lancour said.

* * *

Besides Duffy, Lancour boxed against British featherweight champion Tommy Nichols, Scottish amateur champion Jim Swan and another Irish titlist, Jim McCormick....Of his four opponents, Lancour rates Nichols as the best he faced...Nichols, the first lefthander Lancour had ever met, scored a knockout over the Manistique fighter in the third round...Lancour was on his feet after a four-count in the final round but his corner stopped the fight because Lancour was slated to see action in the final bout of the tour only a few nights later.

* * *

For his efforts in the foreign rings, Lancour has a number of valuable mementos presented to all the U. S. fighters.....He was given a beautiful Irish linen table cloth, a car robe, boxing plaque and a silver trophy....He also has his robe and trunks from the Chicago team, which was selected from the outstanding boxers in the annual Chicago Tournament of Champions.

* * *

In one of the English newspaper clippings, a British boxing observer tabbed Lancour as one of the American fighters to keep an eye on if he turns professional...He was rated as a speedy boxer with a fine assortment of punches and a stiff blow with either hand.

* * *

Describing his training routine, Lancour says it was extremely rugged and called for daily workouts similar to those of the pro boxer....Each member of the U. S. team put in four miles of roadwork at 6 every morning before breakfast...Lancour was high in praise of the United States coaches and declared he had learned a great deal about boxing during the month-long training and fighting session.

Harnies Show No Signs Of Falling Off Red Hot Pace

Harnischfeger showed no signs of slacking off the fantastic pace that has carried the state Class A champions to 33 straight victories as they added two wins to the string last week in American League action.

The Harnies beat the Eagles last Monday night and the Dells Thursday night, boosting their league-leading record to nine straight this season.

Paper Mill is a close second in the standings with a record of seven wins against a single loss.

The game of the week next week brings together second-place Paper Mill and the Dells on Thursday night at Memorial Field. On Tuesday evening the Merchants face Clairmont Transfer in another interesting contest.

Rapid River has dropped down into the National league and their place in the American circuit will be taken by Anderson Brothers of Ensign who have been playing in the slower loop. The Paper Mill Nationals have entered the National league, bringing the total of teams in that group to six.

The schedule for next week follows:

MONDAY—Dells vs. Eagles at 7; Anderson Brothers vs. Harnischfeger at 8:30; Rapid River vs. Juniors at Royce.

TUESDAY — Northland Bread vs. Harnischfeger at 7; Merchants vs. Clairmont Transfer at 8:30; Paper Mill Nationals vs. McDermotts at Royce.

WEDNESDAY—Paper Mill vs. Clairmont Transfer at 7; Northland Bread vs. Eagles at 8:30; Juniors vs. Kesslers at Docks.

THURSDAY — Merchants vs. Anderson Brothers at 7; Dells vs. Paper Mill at 8:30.

FRIDAY — Rapid River vs. Lucky Nine at 7:30.

SATURDAY — McDermotts vs. Kesslers at 7; Paper Mill Nationals vs. Lucky Nine at 8:30.

The standings:

American League

	W.	L.
Harnischfeger	9	0
Paper Mill	7	1
Clairmont Transfer	5	3
Dells	4	3
Merchants	3	6
Northland Bread	2	4
Eagles	2	7
Rapid River	0	8

Chiefs Set For Waubung Opener

Gladstone — The Gladstone Chiefs, local entry in the Waubung league, will open the season here Sunday afternoon at 2 when they entertain Powers, Gordon Haga, manager announced yesterday.

Practice sessions in preparation for the opener were held Wednesday evening, last night and another is being held this afternoon. Larry Feldt is assisting Haga as coach.

Bill Adams and Walter Houghton will form the battery for the opener. Both played last summer. Others from last year's squad are Paul Hammond, left field, Dale Willis, center field, Jeri Smith, right field, Jere Anderson, third base and Butch Thivierge, first base. New to the team are Bill Carlson, shortstop, and Roger Cassell, second base.

Other youths trying out for the team are Mel Brunette, Chuck Lancrete, Bob Gardner, Cliff Olson and Larry Sundblad.

Cards Host To Cooks Sunday

MANISTIQUE—Jim Cowman or Bob Watson will be on the mound for the Manistique Cardinals when they revive their long-standing rivalry with the Cooks Bombers in the Bay de Noc League here Sunday at 2.

The Cards are unbeaten in two starts and an exhibition game this season. Cooks has a 1-2 record.

Remainder of the Manistique lineup will be the same as in previous games.

Ron Johnson, Joe Halverson and Orville Olson will be available for the Cooks mound assignment.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected.

Babe Ruth League Will Open Season Tuesday, June 7

The Escanaba Babe Ruth league, one of the important factors in this city's extensive baseball program, will open its season Tuesday, Flag Day, at 6 p.m. at the City Diamond.

A short program before the opener will feature talks by Mayor Harland Yelland, League President Kenton Olson, City Recreation Director Art Peterson and Escanaba High School baseball coach Jim Rouman.

The Babe Ruth League is composed of six teams, including 90 boys from 13 through 15 years of age. The Labor Temple Association is a new member of the loop this season.

The league appears to be well balanced this year. Each team has lost at least one game in the practice schedule. In past years the Babe Ruth League has had three strong teams and three weak clubs.

Last year the league championship was shared by three teams. In the first place knot were AFL Unions, Elks Club and L & R Sporting Goods. Lower division teams have been strengthened by the addition of outstanding graduates of the Little League program. The Kiwanis, Paper Mill and Insurance Asociation teams appear to have a chance to challenge for the top spot.

Regular league games will be played through the summer and the season will be climaxed by the selection of 15 players to an all-star team that wil compete in the district tournament. The Escanaba team won the district championship two years ago.

Minoso Worries Chisox With Lack Of Base Hits

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnie Minoso hasn't had a hit since he was beaned last month and the Chicago White Sox are worried about their star outfielder.

But the colorful Cuban laughs it off and said, "When I come out of it, I tear 'em apart."

Minoso, hitless in 15 trips to the plate since he was struck by a ball thrown by pitcher Bob Grim of the New York Yankees May 18, doesn't believe the slump can be attributed to the accident.

Nothing New

"I get hit in the head eight times in baseball and knocked out three," said Minoso. He was hit 16 times last year and has led the American League in that department for four years.

"They no scare me. They got to kill me before I move back," Minoso answered.

"I love baseball. It my bread and butter and if they kill me when I up at bat, I be buried in my baseball suit. I no back off for no one."

Minoso led the Sox at bat last season with a .320 average. He hit 19 home runs, 18 triples, drove in 116 runs, stole 18 bases and led the league with 304 total bases.

Currently he is batting .244, 65 points below his .309 lifetime average, and has a mere 38 total bases.

Batting Only .244

Sox manager Marty Marion feels Minoso is the reason the Sox are 5½ games behind the Yankees. "If we could only get him hitting, we'd really roll. All he needs is one good day at the plate," he said.

Minnie agrees. "One day I get two hits, another three, then maybe four and I be right up there," said Minoso. "When I no hit, nobody say anything in dugout but I laugh to show I no worry. I start hitting soon and then I tear 'em apart."

New Cardinal Manager Wants Jablonski Back

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals have tried to meet a need for a right handed hitter with a bid for ex-Red Bird Ray Jablonski, but without success.

Harry Walker, the new Cardinal manager, said Friday night he had little hope of getting Jabbo back from the Cincinnati Reds, "but I had to try."

Walker met with Gabe Paul, Cincinnati general manager. Paul described it as "a friendly visit."

Walker was believed to have offered outfielder Harry Elliott and pitcher Bob Tiefenauer for Jablonski.

Basilio Stops DeMarco To Win Welter Crown

By MURRAY ROSE

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Battle-scarred Carmen Basilio looked forward to a fishing trip today while his manager started work on reeling in some more greenbacks for the newly crowned welterweight champion.

The 28-year old ex-Marine from nearby Canastota, N. Y., earned his vacation Friday night by stopping valiant Tony DeMarco in 1:52 of the 12th round of a thrilling and bloody title fight in the War Memorial Auditorium.

Although Basilio said he was willing to defend his crown "against anyone I'm called on to meet," his manager had other plans for the immediate future.

Saxon Next Foe?

"We'd like one or two nontitle fights for Carmen to bring in some cash," said Johnny De John. "We're not committed to fight anyone for the title, no matter what you hear."

It had been reported that the winner of the Friday fracas would take on ex-champion Johnny Saxton, who lost his title to DeMarco via 14th round technical knockout April 1.

Basilio earned approximately $30,000 as well as the title. DeMarco, who held the diadem only 70 days in becoming the 11th modern welterweight ruler to lose his crown in the first defense, collected a hefty $60,000.

A capacity crowd of 9,170 paid $119,794 and the coast to coast radio broadcast and telecast added another $50,000.

Right To Chin

DeMarco, 23-year-old Bostonian was very much in the running until he got nailed on the chin by a power-packed right in the 10th. Two more rights to the chin sent DeMarco to the canvas for seven. He came and ran into a left hook to the jaw that sent him on his back. He got up at seven again and somehow managed to survive the round.

DeMarco, bleeding from cuts over both eyes, the mouth and nose, wasn't through trying. Everyone in the place but Tony knew he was done. He shifted to a lefty stance in the 11th and 12th in the hopes of pulling off a lucky punch.

Basilio pinpointed his blows to head and body until referee Harry Kessler of St. Louis and New York stopped the fight.

Basilio Far Ahead

Kessler had it 8-2-1 for Basilio. Two New York judges, Frank Forbes 8-3 and Bert Grant 7-4 also had Basilio in front. The AP card agreed with Grant's.

Despite the cards, DeMarco had given the favored Basilio a whale of a battle until the knockdowns.

Several times, notably in the first and third rounds, DeMarco rocked the challenger with hooks to the chin.

Basilio weighed 145½, his lightest in nearly three years. DeMarco weighed 144¾.

Little Opposition For Nashua Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Nashua, beaten in the Kentucky Derby but winner of the Preakness, is the prohibitive choice to beat nine so-so 3-year-olds in the 87th Belmont Stakes today.

The field today shapes up as the weakest ever to oppose Nashua. Not one of the others ever won a major race. A victory by any of them would be the biggest surprise in the history of the race.

The early line quoted Nashua at 1 to 10 to wrap up his fourth one-hundred grand victory of the year. The race will be televised and broadcast nationally (CBS) 2.30 CST.

If 10 starts, which is very unlikely, the Belmont will have a gross value of $122,800 with the winner netting $86,700.

Cass To Pitch For Esky Bears

The call for extra players by Manager Dick Lough of the Escanaba Bears drew a half a dozen new candidates to practice sessions this week, he announced today.

Among the most promising candidates are Jim Brown, Holy Name High School catcher, and Tony Kutches, an experienced American Legion Junior player.

The new players are lively to see action Sunday when the Bears travel to Hermansville for a Tri County League clash, seeking their third straight victory.

Louch has named Dick Cass, former St. Joe Trojan athlete, to start on the mound against Hermansville.

Merchants To Play At Ishpeming Sunday

The Escanaba Merchants softball team will travel to Ishpeming to meet the Venice Bar in a doubleheader Sunday night.

The team will leave from Skinny's Bar at 4:45.

Bob Thibault Lands Kingsford Cage Job

Robert Thibault, of Nahma, a graduate of Western Michigan college, was named head basketball coach at Kingsford High School, it was announced by A. T. Allen, superintendent.

Thibault received his bachelor of science degree in 1951 from Western Michigan college, and this month will receive his master of arts degree from the same school.

During the three intervening years, Thibault was basketball coach at Cooks.

Broncos Win In Tourney Opener

OMAHA (AP)—Tabbed as a series that might be hard on favorites, the NCAA college baseball world series started off Friday by living up to the prediction. Two favorites were trimmed and two won in the opening games.

Going down in surprise defeats were Southern California, beaten 2-1 by Colorado State, and Arizona, a 4-1 victim of Western Michigan. Winning as rated were Wake Forest, 1-0 over Colgate, and Oklahoma A & M., the top favorite, by a 5-1 count over Springfield, Mass., College.

Today Colgate meets Southern California; Arizona plays Springfield; Wake Forest meets Colorado State and Oklahoma A & M meets Western Michigan.

Casey Travels First Class For Man Living On Relief

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Ol' Casey Stengel is really traveling first class these days for a guy living on relief.

His New York Yankees rammed home another nail in Cleveland's coffin Friday night 3-2 to move 6½ games ahead of the toppling Tribe. But they had to call on Tom Morgan, and of course Jim Konstanty, to get the job done.

Morgan came on in relief of Tommy Byrne after the Yanks had taken a 3-1 lead in the seventh. And when Morgan faltered in the ninth, Konstanty strolled in to retire the last two batters with the tying and winning runs on base.

10th In Row

It was the 10th straight game in which Stengel has had to go to the bullpen and his firemen have won or saved six of them.

In their last 17 games, the Yankees have had only four complete games from their pitching staff. Yet they've won 12 of the contests to add three games to their American league lead—which at present is a 5½-game spread over the Chicago White Sox, who were idled by rain Friday.

The loss was Cleveland's seventh in their last eight games.

Boston, with two home runs by Ted Williams, beat Detroit 5-2 and Baltimore defeated Kansas City 3-0 in the other AL games.

In the National, Brooklyn and Carl Erskine slammed the runner-up Chicago Cubs 7-0 as the Brooks took a 9½-game lead. And New York beat St. Louis 2-1.

Braves Rained Out

The Milwaukee-Pittsburgh game was rained out. Philadelphia and Cincinnati weren't scheduled.

Singles by Gil McDougald, Andy Carey and Mickey Mantle broke up a 1-1 tie in the seventh at Cleveland and got Byrne started toward his third victory.

Mike Garcia was the loser, dropping his seventh.

At Brooklyn, Erskine won his eighth on a four-hitter and belted his first major league home run. Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella added two more homers among the Dodgers' five hits off loser Sam Jones, and reliefers Dave Hillman and John Andre. It was No. 18 for Campy, who now leads the majors in home runs.

Hearn Wins 7th

Rookie Gail Harris hit his second big league homer in the eighth to win for the Giants as Jim Hearn won No. 7. Rookie lefty Luis Arroyo lost his second after winning six straight. Twenty-three runners were stranded in the game—12 by the Cards, who slumped to seventh behind the Phils.

Umpire Al Barlick warned both managers after Hearn sent Rip Repulski ducking and Arroyo hit Hearn.

Williams teed off at Detroit on his first two trips to the plate as Willard Nixon won his fifth victory on the seventh try. Boston now has won five straight.

Jim Wilson and Ray Moore scattered eight Kansas City hits as Baltimore won its third in a row after losing seven.

Little Mo Marries Today At Age Of 20

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The world's abdicating tennis queen becomes a bride today at the age of 20.

Maureen Connolly, wearing a bridal costume from London, marries Norman Brinker, 24, in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

The newlyweds will have a short California honeymoon before leaving for a European trip June 15.

Boys Register In Rec Leagues

Forty boys registered for recreation league baseball yesterday and more are expected to sign up at Club 314 next week. Two teams have already been formed in the 11 to 13 year old division and four clubs will play in the 5 to 10 year old league.

The two junior league teams are Coco Cola and Chets. The four Giant league teams are Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, and St. Joe.

The recreation league is for all boys who are not playing in the Little League or Babe Ruth League. There are no tryouts and everyone plays in every game.

Instruction in the fundamentals of baseball will be given every Monday and Wednesday at Royce Park and games will be played on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. The 5 to 10 year olds report for practice at 9 in the morning with the older boys coming out at 1 in the afternoon.

If a sufficient number of boys sign up in the 14 to 17 year old division, a league will be formed for that age group.

Registration will continue at Club 314 next Monday and Tuesday and the first practice session will be held Wednesday at Royce Park.

Menard Slated For Mound Duty

Gladstone — Dick Williamnson yesterday announced that he planned on sticking with the lineup that has put the Gladstone Indians out in front in the Bay de Noc league when they travel to Perkins Sunday seeking their fourth straight victory without defeat.

The players will meet at the city hall at 12:30 Sunday noon before leaving for Perkins.

Ray Menard will again get the mound assignment with Larry LaPlant behind the plate to receive his slants. Paul Begovac will be on first, J. C. Miller at short and Roger Carlson at third. In the outer ardens will be Norm Butler, Dwight Arnesen, Lloyd Forvilly and Jim LaLonde.

U. S. Golfers Take Slim Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States team carried a one-stroke lead into today's international golf championship play, but Belgium's Flory Van Donck threatened to run away with individual honors.

Van Donck was three strokes ahead of the field at the opening of the third round, and with teammate Arthur De Vulder was tied with Argentina for second in team competition for the Canada Cup.

Chick Harbert and Ed Furgol took the team lead for the United States with 282 as the defending champion Australian team dropped into a fourth-place tie with Ireland.

Van Donck's 66 Friday gave him a 36-hole total of 136 while Harbert and Argentina's Roberto De Vicenzo tied for second with 139s.

Ted Finds Youth Fountain In Tigers' Briggs Stadium

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Ted Williams has found the fountain of youth. Only he spells it B-R-I-G-G-S S-T-A-DIUM.

Friendly Briggs Stadium, home of the Detroit Tigers, cures all ills for Williams, the 36-year old Boston Red Sox slugger.

You remember last year. Williams suffered a broken collarbone on the first day of spring training. He didn't get back into the starting lineup until the Red Sox hit Briggs Stadium in mid-May.

Had A Cold

In a spectacular doubleheader debut, Williams slammed eight hits in nine trips to the plate, including a pair of towering home runs.

Now, as Boston toured the West, a cold forced Williams out of the lineup. He missed the last two games of a three-game series in Cleveland.

But as the team headed for Detroit, and Briggs Stadium, Williams began to feel better.

"The closer we got to Briggs Stadium, the better I felt," said the lanky leftfielder.

First Two Trips

Then he showed what he meant.

In his first two trips to the plate Friday, Williams hit two home runs—one into the lower deck and one into the upper deck. The two homers sparked the Red Sox to a 5-2 win. He also walked and singled.

"This is a great place to hit," said Williams. "I've always done well here."

Williams has played in only 10 games, batting 38 times, since coming out of temporary retirement. But in that time he has hit four home runs. That would give him something like 60 home runs over a full season.

Walked Him Next

After giving up two home runs to Williams, rookie Duke Maas wisely walked him the next time up.

Then a strange thing happened on the Detroit bench.

Several of the Tigers jumped up and complained about the fourth ball, beefing it was a good pitch.

You'd think they'd be more than happy to see Williams stroll harmlessly down to first base.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father Edward Shedore who died seven years ago yesterday, June 10, 1948.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary troubles and trials are past.
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

Sadly missed by
Wife and children.

More Shooting Slated Here For National Guardsmen

Members of Company D of the National Guard 107th engineers here who failed to qualify in record firing last week will take to the Rifle and Pistol club range again this weekend to shoot for record.

Approximately 16 men are slated for the shooting bouts Saturday and Sunday.

They will shoot with both M1 30 calibre rifles and the 30-calibre carbine.

New Corporal For State Police Post Due Monday

Raymond Anderson, Gladstone State police officer, is scheduled to arrive here Monday to begin duties as corporal for the state police post here.

The post here is commanded by Sgt. N. H. Modders and has a staff of seven troopers.

Cpl. Floyd Paruch, who was assigned here earlier, is on sick leave in Arizona.

Youngster Hurt While Swimming At Quarry Here

Sue Ann Olson, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Olson, 126 Chippewa Ave., is receiving treatment in Schoolcraft Memorial hospital for spinal injuries received while swimming at the quarry.

The youngster, a seventh grader in the Junior High School, has pelvic and sacro-iliac injuries. The family reports she is not expected to have any permanent spinal damage, but will be in bed for about a month.

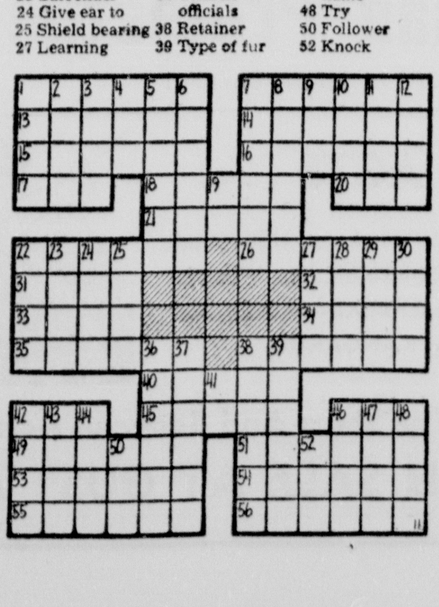

Sue was injured when she struck rocks at the quarry while being swung by two boys. One boy let go before she was far enough over the water to clear the stones.

Atomic Laboratory At U.M. Dedicated To Peace Research

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The fires of the universe, banked in the atom, have burned mostly for war. Today science dedicates a new laboratory to turn these fires to peace.

The laboratory is the University of Michigan's memorial to the dead of World War II — The Phoenix Memorial Laboratory, dedicated to research into the peacetime uses of atomic energy.

It's an impressive building — its four ventilating stacks reaching into the air, its deadly cargo of radioactive uranium and cobalt, not yet arrived, to be buried deep in the ground under a shield of water.

Driven To Work

But just as impressive are its uses and its aims. It is to be used for basic research by the kind of "man who is driven to do the work because he is a scientist."

These are the words of Dr. Henry J. Gomberg, the assistant director of the Phoenix project, a young man much like the scientist he describes.

Under Ralph A. Sawyer, dean of the university's school of graduate studies and director of the Phoenix project, Dr. Gomberg has had a hand in every phase of the work.

The basement floor of the building is his most power paced example of the amount of planning that went into the construction. Here each room increases in radiation degrees and importance from the front of the building to the back where the uranium reactor is being built.

Largest In Country

It will be the largest reactor owned by a non-governmental institution. Paid for by the Ford Motor Co., its cost is one million dollars.

It will be a gas-tight, windowless building, housing a water - filled "swimming pool." Under this will be the uranium fuel and its ultiwork takes place in the part of the lab which is next to the reactor.

In the high gamma radiation room is a 16-foot well, filled with water. In the bottom will be placed the 41 rods of radioactive cobalt 60 which arrive next month from Canad's Chalk River Laboratories.

Dean Sawyer says the 3000 curies of radiation in the cobalt is almost twice the power of the world's entire supply of purified radium.

The sheer complexity of the construction and equipment in each mate heat of 10 million degrees.

The one and a half million dollar laboratory, which was dedicated today, adjoins the reactor. The hottest (most highly radiated) of the rooms defies description. What it all means is an easier story.

Some 25,000 individuals, including everyone from John Doe to the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors, have contributed seven and a half million dollars to Phoenix.

They did it to make the Phoenix myth come true. Dean Sawyer explains it this way. The name Phoenix was chosen with reference to the Egyptian methological bird with every 500 years flew into a sacramental fire and was consumed, to be later reborn, with renewed youth.

Out of the atomic fire and death of World War II, the Phoenix Memorial Project was born, dedicated to the university war dead, to benefit the living.

Air Force Post Planned Here

A sub-detachment office of the Air Force Filter Center at Green Bay will be established in Escanaba July 1 with T-Sgt. Donald C. Petersen in charge.

Two other Air Force men, A-1c William M. Stoffel and A-1c George L. Pacoby will be assigned to the Escanaba office. A fourth man, S-Sgt. Jack Frazier Jr., will be located at Sault Ste. Marie but will make his reports to the sub-detachment at Escanaba.

All four men are now stationed in Green Bay but do most of their work in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The move has been authorized to save transportation expenses.

Sgt. Petersen has also announced that Robert Neel has taken over the ground observer post in Ensign following the resignation of Mrs. Blanche Papineau who has been in charge of the post for 18 months.

Neel will operate the ground observer post from his home and service station on US-2, a half mile east of Ensign.

The Ensign post is one of many i nthe Upper Peninsula that is being manned to report to the Air Force Filter Center of any aircraft passing overhead.

The ground observer posts are relied upon to spot low flying aircraft that may escape radar location.

Wolverine State Goes Big In Mink

LANSING (AP) — The Wolverine State, where wolverines are to be found only in zoos, is doing a bang-up business in mink.

As the years go by the chances are increasing that the mink stole owned or coveted by your wife is a product of Michigan.

Some 250 ranches, scattered from the Ohio border to the Lake Superior shores, are turning out about 186,000 pelts each year.

By graciously giving up their skins for the sake of feminine fashion, the little animals brought some two and one half million dollars into the state's coffers last year — and made Michigan the fourth largest mink producing state in the union.

More In Small Garments

What accounts for the upturn in mink production, and the apparently limitless consumer demand which made the U. S. a market for three million pelts last year?

A possible answer is the change in the type of market, explains Lawrence Wakefield of Traverse City, a long-time mink breeder and secretary of the Michigan Fur Breeders Assn.

Twenty years ago, 75 per cent of the fur was used in coats, with the rest going into capes, stoles, chokers and other small garments.

No the situation is just reversed, Wakefield says. Three-quarters of the fur goes into small garments and only one-quarter into coats.

Mink, all descendents of the standard dark mink, are now available in several different flavors with prices to match.

Most expensive is the sapphire blue-grey, a single pelt of which can bring as high as $82.

Others in order of value are the white, pastel dark to very light brown, Aleutian dark gunmetal and platinum grey.

Planes Are Menace

In case you or your wife is interested, you can buy a three-piece dark mink scarf for as low as $150.

Mink are high-strung creatures that don't thrive in the midst of civilization. Low-flying planes are a menace; mink mothers will destroy their kits in a frantic effort to protect them.

Hot weather also has a devastating effect on mink. A large ranch near Bridgeport buys tons of ice to put in the cages on very hot days in an effort to reduce mortality.

"It's a tough racket that takes a considerable investment," Wakefield says. "I would advise beginners to first get a job on a big ranch."

Prospective mink-breeders can be sure of one thing, though. As long as there are women, the demand for mink will continue.

Cattle Tuberculosis To Be Meeting Topic

LANSING — Talks on tuberculosis among dairy cattle and the voluntary campaign against TB and rehabilitation in Michigan sanatoriums will be among the meatures of the 47th annual meeting of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, at Michigan State College, June 17-18. Discussing the bovine tuberculosis problem will be Dr. C. F. Clark, dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine, MSC.

Germanium, new rare metal used in radio and hearing aids, costs about $350 a pound.

Isabella

Honored at Shower

ISABELLA — Relatives and neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Henry Turan Wednesday evening to honor Mrs. Dale Hebert with a pink and blue shower. Games were played with Mrs. Harvey Sundin, Mrs. Isadore Bonifas, Mrs. Alvina O'Connor and Mrs. Algot Segerstrom receiving the awards. Party arrangements were made by Mrs. Edward Baker and daughter, Beverly. Mrs. Hebert received many lovely gifts.

Briefs

Elmer Hall Sr. has returned from Marquette where he received medical attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Sundin visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nelson at Gulliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Miller of Boyne City are spending their vacation at their cabin here.

Miss Nancy Forslund will leave Saturday for Evanston, Ill., where she will be employed during the summer.

Mrs. Emma Peterson is visiting at the Edwin Sundin home at Manistique.

Mrs. Isadore Bonifas has returned from Marenisco where she visited relatives.

William Venette, a patient at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, Manistique, and Ed Lindstrom, a surgical patient at St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, are reported making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry McClinchy of Crandon, Wis., are vacationing at the Olive McClinchy cabin.

A friend in need is a friend indeed—until his need is liquidated.

Schaffer

Kenneth Tousignant, who is stationed with the U. S. Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is spending a 10 day leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. Tom Tousignant. Kenneth and his mother and Miss Janet Nelson of Escanaba left Wednesday for Flint where they will visit Mr. Tousignant.

A man may not know when he is well-off, but his wife can always tell him when she was well-off.
